

KILLED IN A WRECK

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TRAINS IN A FATAL ACCIDENT CAUSED BY A LANDSLIDE

Three People Are Dead
and Several Injured
Near Delta.

REDDING, Feb. 21.—The wreck of the southbound Oregon Express train by a landslide near Delta last night resulted in the death of at least three persons and the injury of several others.

THE DEAD.

DENNIS FREEL, engineer.
MAIL CLERK, name unknown.

THREE TRAMPS, names unknown.

MISSING.

Two passengers.

INJURED.

MAIL CLERK.
C. E. WICKS, second engineer; serious.

RICHARD MILLER, fireman.
JAMES PETERS, fireman.
The two engines attached to the train and the mail car were wrecked.

STRUCK A SLIDE.

The first section of the train struck a landslide half a mile above the town of Delta, and a tramp was struck and injured. While the train crew was extricating him a second slide occurred, covering the men at work.

Engineer Freel, Fireman Peters and the mail clerk were killed instantly.

Two tramps and two or three passengers were buried in the debris.

This is the worst wreck which has ever occurred on this part of the line.

Freel's train was in a wreck at Girvin four years ago, when Engineer James White was killed.

Wrecking trains from Sacramento and Dunsmaur are at work clearing the track.

Fireman Peters and the mail clerk have been found, injured but alive. Engineer Freel and three tramps are dead. Two passengers are missing.

Peters was not on duty, but was traveling as a passenger.

DOUBLE WRECK.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—A special dispatch to The Bee from Redding says: In the double wrecking by landslides of the southbound Oregon Express, No. 15, consisting of Pullmans, last night three-quarters of a mile above Delta, three persons are known at this writing to have been killed and the probabilities are that this number will be more than doubled by the time the wreckage is cleared away.

Engineer Dennis Freel and Fireman James Peters of the train crew were killed, and it also is likely that the mail clerk, name unknown here at present, also perished. One tramp was killed and three more of his kind who were riding on the blind baggage are missing.

TO RESCUE TRAMP.

The efforts of the train crew to rescue the tramp led to the death of Freel and Peters. The fellow was caught by the first slide that caught the train and was unable to extricate himself. Seeing his predicament the trainmen went to his assistance, and it was while they were thus engaged that the second landslide took place, burying Freel and Peters.

BURGLAR THREATENS DEATH TO BOY

Threatened with death by a burglar whose face he had seen in a mirror, Albert Jacobs, aged 14, spent an agonized fifteen minutes last night. The boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Jacobs, of 1366 Harrison street. The parents went to the theater last evening leaving Albert in his room in the rear of the second story of the house. His two little sisters were in a front room. The boy was sitting in his bed reading when he heard a noise as though somebody was moving the curtain behind him. He turned, but the noise had stopped. Now he thinks that intruders had moved the curtain and looked in the window.

A shed runs across the back of the house and the burglars walked across to the other end and climbed into a vacant room, flashing a lantern around. The doors between the back rooms were open and Albert saw one of the men in this mirror which commanded the entrance. He was tall, and hardly more than 25 years old, the boy says. The burglar saw the boy in the mirror and springing to the door behind the boy said in a hoarse whisper:

"If you make a move or cry out, I'll kill you."

The boy lay cold with terror, and watched in terror the movements of the man in the mirror. The fellow had a mask on but pushed it up so that his features were visible. The boy noticed that he had a several days' growth of beard and wore a cheap black suit. The boy did not see the second man at all, but heard two voices whispering in the adjoining room. The men ransacked two of the back rooms but did not enter Albert's and did not even arouse the two little girls.

Suddenly came the noise of people entering down stairs. It was Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs returning, which they did about ten o'clock. The burglars hurriedly left through the window, just before Mr. Jacobs came upstairs. He found his son very badly frightened, but able to tell what had happened. The burglars had taken nothing away, but had gathered some pieces of silverware in a towel, leaving the collection in the floor when they decamped. Mr. Jacobs notified the police, but the latter were unable to get any trace of the burglars.

"I'LL KILL YOU."

ENGINE IS SENT TO SIDE OF HILL BARD IS SLAIN

ONE OF THE WORST WRECKS IN HISTORY OF NORTH.

REDDING, Feb. 21.—The breaking of an irrigating ditch on a plateau overlooking Southern Pacific track, half a mile above Delta, caused a washout of the track, into which the engine of the first section of train No. 15 plunged, wrecking the two engines.

Then a part of the mountain slid down, burying Dennis Freel, the engineer, and one tramp.

Engineer Wicks of the second engine had his foot badly crushed, but there was no other fatality or injury.

The head engine overturned and rolled down the bank nearly to the river.

The other fell against the mountain side. The mail car went off the track, but remained upright.

CONFESSES A MURDER

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Before swallowing a dose of poison, after hope of securing a pardon had vanished, Mrs. Sarah Kuhn wrote a confession in which she admitted putting to death her aged husband, Jacob Kuhn.

The confession details a plot that resulted in the death of her aged shoe-making husband. She desired to wed a younger lover. Mrs. Kuhn died from the effects of the poison.

FRENCH'S TRIAL IS AGAIN POSTPONED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—Another postponement in the trial of former Senator Frank French, charged with bribery, was necessitated this morning by the illness of J. R. Allen, of Oak Park, one of the jurors. Judge Hart ordered a continuance until next Friday morning when Charles T. Jones, special counsel for the prosecution, will make the opening argument.

HOW A MOTHER SOLD DAUGHTER AS A SLAVE

Here is a reproduction of a pen drawing of Viola Brown made this morning by a TRIBUNE artist while the girl was talking to Helen Warwick and other newspaper representatives in the City Prison. Viola Brown charges her mother with having taught her to lead a life of shame.

STORY IS ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF

This Unhappy Girl
Tells Tale of Her Life.

By HELEN WARWICK

"A human interest story? A sad story," you ask? Listen, my readers; give heed to what I say, for I shall relate to you the saddest story I have every heard; I shall depict to you a most unusual story.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Hardened police officers bow their heads, tears fill the eyes of calloused reporters and all unite in saying that the crime has no parallel—that never have the laws of humanity, the laws of maternal affections, the laws of filial love, been so outraged. This is a case far removed from all other cases; it stands in a class by itself.

GIRL IN PRISON.

In the city prison, in a little lone-some room, sits Emily Kleugel, pale and thin and unattractive—a girl who looks as though she had drunk the cup of life to the dregs; a girl who says, "I am unclean—do not touch me," and draws away her hand murmuring, "Life is hard, but—she was my mother. That was the place I called home; the only place I had to shelter me in the whole world. Would I had died, but I could not—I could only live and for this."

HER TALE OF WOE.

The story? Oh, yes; the story! Saturday night Viola Brown, a girl of twenty, was brought to the attention of the police upon suspicion of having purloined some jewelry from the people by whom she was employed. During the cross-questioning to which she was subjected, this story leaked out.

OFFERED A PLACE.

She had met a man named Harry Marks, who had introduced her to his wife and daughter. Offering the girl more pay, they had asked her to accompany them to Livermore, where they claimed to own a hotel. Being a hard-working girl, she had accepted. Upon arriving at her destination she

PARENT SENTENCED TO YEAR IN PRISON

Mrs. Celia Marks, accused of putting her daughter, Emily Kleugel, in a house of shame, was this morning sentenced to one year in the city prison by Police Judge Smith, on a charge of vagrancy, and also on a charge of misdemeanor. The sentence was the heaviest that could be imposed by the court. Her husband, Henry Marks, is however, accused of a felony and probably be sent to the State penitentiary for dishonoring his wife, defiling his stepdaughter and bringing about the ruin of Miss Viola Brown, an orphan girl, who was lured to a den in Livermore.

FELONY CHARGE.

The husband was arraigned on the

OUTBREAK IS FEARED AMONG CHINESE

MANILA, Feb. 21.—Major General Leonard Wood will leave here on next Saturday for a two weeks' tour of inspection on the Island of Mindanao. This trip indicates that no immediate movement of troops to China is contemplated.

The Chinese in Manila, believing that trouble is imminent, are limiting their business contracts to their countrymen in China. Advices received here by Chinese say that an outbreak against foreigners will occur on February 24.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The case of Adolph Weber, convicted of murder at Auburn, Cal., came up today on the motion of his attorneys for a new trial before the State Supreme Court sitting in banc. An exhaustive plea in behalf of the condemned man was made by Attorney Grove L. Johnson. He asserted that newly discovered evidence would tend to clear his client, and was ready for production. Johnson's argument was not concluded this morning, and was continued at length this afternoon.

WEBER CASE IN THE SUPREME COURT

MRS. PAUL LOHSE GOES TO COURT

Well Beloved Social Leader and Charitable Worker Suddenly Called to Rest.

Mrs. Paul Lohse, one of the best known ladies in the social circles of this and the other side of the bay, passed away yesterday afternoon in a private sanatorium after an illness of only short duration.

The news of her illness was not permitted to reach this city or vicinity, and the shock occasioned by the fatal termination may, therefore, be imagined, because Mrs. Lohse was as warmly revered as she was widely known in the circles in which she moved.

During this winter Mrs. Lohse, her husband and daughter, Clarisse, and son, have been making their home in the Plymouth in San Francisco. For several weeks the deceased had not been in her usual health, but required only the attendance of nurses.

Even yesterday a decided improvement was noticed in her condition. She was also in excellent spirits and hope was entertained that she would soon again be restored to that health which she had utilized so liberally in the entertainment of her acquaintances and the relief of the distressed about her.

A radical change, however, for the worse was experienced, and surgeons decided that the patient should be taken to a sanatorium. At the latter place an operation was performed without the desired result, death ensuing after a short time.

Mrs. Lohse was a native of Chatham, Ont., Canada. She came to this city when a young girl, and was early welcomed into the exclusive circles of society, both here and in San Francisco. She experienced a great deal of pleasure in modestly and unassumingly entertaining her friends, and in the same gentle spirit accepted the hospitality of others.

Social pleasures, however, were not the ultimate ambition of Mrs. Lohse. She had a mind stored with the benefits which are derived from a liberal education and this fact gave a literary and intellectual trend to many of her entertainments.

with the hobo they were gallantly trying to save.

ENGINE NEARLY BURIED.

The second engine of the train was nearly buried by the last slide, which also, it is now believed, took with it three tramps that had been seen riding the blind baggage.

Peters was an extra fireman. Richard Miller, the regular fireman, escaped with slight injuries, as did C. E. Wicks, engineer on the second engine, whose foot was crushed. William Roberts, fireman on Wicks' engine, was not hurt beyond a few bruises.

PASSENGERS MISSING.

At this writing three passengers are reported as missing.

Freel was in a wreck at Girvin four years ago, when his fireman, James White, was killed.

It is now believed that the wreckage will be cleared away by 4 o'clock this afternoon. The first engine went over the railroad embankment and is almost in the river below. The second engine was derailed and several of the cars. Wrecking crews from Dunsmuir, Red Bluff and Sacramento have been dispatched to the scene. The people of Delta are rendering all the assistance in their power.

TRAINS HELD.

The morning southbound Oregon Express is being held at Dunsmuir and the northbound at this place.

BODY FOUND.

A later report received at 10 o'clock from Redding says that the body of one of the missing passengers has been found. His name is not known.

INSURANCE PRESIDENT ACCUSED OF FALSIFYING HIS REPORT.

SALT LAKE, Feb. 21.—The preliminary examination of Hiram Tyree, president of the Continental Life Insurance and Investment Company, and Cameron C. Wyllie, secretary of the company, who are charged jointly with certifying to the Secretary of State a false report of the company's condition, began today before Police Judge Diehl.

The principal witness for the State was Assistant Secretary of State George B. Squires, who is now engaged in an examination of the insurance company's books. He testified that his investigations showed that the company was carrying on its books as cash $12,000 which had been expended; that the company previous to December 31st had expended $21,000 which was not reported to the Secretary of State, and that the accused officials had included in their report to the Secretary of State transactions of later date than December 31st last, which was the date of the report made to the Secretary of State.

Other witnesses included W. H. Cunningham of San Francisco, Secretary of the Western Agencies Company, an adjunct of the insurance company and Philip Harding, former bookkeeper of the insurance company. Both were called for the purpose of introducing certain books and records of the insurance company.

"Five years," was the remark that passed between the spectators.

PLEADS GUILTY.

She pleaded not only guilty to being a vagrant but also to wilfully enticing her own daughter into various dens of iniquity against the protest of the daughter. When she admitted her guilt, her voice quavered, and she shook from head to foot. Before the arraignment was complete she sank on to the bench she had been sitting on, a quivering mass of humanity, racked with grief, cowed by shame and hysterical from the intensity of her emotions. She shed tears until they fairly washed her painted face. There was not a spectator who was not moved to sympathy by this display of wild and despairing sorrow.

"You have pleaded guilty," said Judge Smith in passing sentence, "to the most enormous crime a mother can commit. You forced your own offspring to become polluted by vice and sin in its lowest form. I do not suppose there is any use depicting the horror of the thing you have pleaded guilty to. It would be useless. You deserve no sympathy. It is the judgment of this court that you serve six months on each of the charges. I am sorry that the law does not permit me to punish you more severely."

CITY INSTALLS NEW ALARM BOXES

The city's electrical department was busy today setting up seven new fire alarm boxes. Three were placed in Golden Gate—Sixteenth and Lowell, Sixty-first and Idaho, and Fifty-sixth between Park and Lowell. Two boxes were placed in Vernon Heights—one on Walsworth and Lewis and the other on Perry and Cheever. East Oakland received two boxes—on Second Avenue and East Twelfth street and the other on Nineteenth Avenue and East Sixteenth street. The box that was formally on Third Avenue and East Tenth street was removed to Fifth Avenue and East Tenth Street.

This latter move was on account of there being so much vacant property where the box was. It was thought best to place it in a more settled district, and the new box at Second Avenue and East Twelfth street will take care of most of the property in the district where the old box was formerly located.

Keys have been liberally distributed in the houses nearest the boxes, which is the case all over the city, but any responsible citizen is entitled to a key, and can obtain one from the fire alarm office.

COLONEL CODY'S HEALTH SHATTERED

OMAHA, Feb. 21.—Pressed down by hard work, business perplexities, sickness and death in his family and domestic troubles and unhappiness, Buffalo Bill, the famous old plainsman and showman, is threatened with a complete breakdown. He now fully realizes that he would live and enjoy a fair degree of health, physical and mental, if he must make a radical change in his way of living. Accordingly, he has made up his mind to quit the show business at the end of the current year, return to his own country from Europe, settle down in Wyoming, where he is happier than he is anywhere else in the world, and open up a big ranch and his other business enterprises there and take life easier than he has been wont to take it.

WORTHLESS CHECK.

John Pezzola a saloonkeeper at 412 San Pablo avenue, reported to the police this morning that he had cashed a check for $10 drawn on San Francisco bank in favor of E. Edwards, and that the check proved worthless. The man who presented the check was a stranger to the saloon man.

PROPERTY AT STAKE

Important Point Is Raised in the Lloyd Case.

An important point was raised this morning by Attorney W. S. Goodfellow in the case of Elizabeth Nix against the estate of the late Charles R. Lloyd when he attempted to introduce certain deeds to property aggregating a large part of the estate, appraised at $360,000, which he claimed had been acquired since the marriage with Mary Crossley.

Attorney Goodfellow claimed that this property having been acquired after the marriage was community property of which the widow would be entitled to but a half while that acquired before the marriage she would be entitled to but a third.

MAKES OBJECTION.

The introduction of the evidence was objected to by Attorney Frank Powers, who argued that Attorney Goodfellow had no right to introduce it, and that this time the case was practically closed and had been submitted by both sides.

The deeds were finally admitted by Judge Ellsworth subject to the objection of Attorney Powers and both sides are to submit briefs on the question.

The decision of the case in which Mrs. Nix, a natural daughter of Lloyd, is claiming a child's portion of the estate under a promise made to her by her father that she should share with his other children in his property, has been delayed owing to certain amendments to the original paper in the case to correspond more nearly with the facts as Powers and his wife's amendments.

Attorney Goodfellow has claimed the right to answer, and in this way the proceedings to some extent have been reopened. The matter has now gone over to March 16.

There were sobs upon sobs, until I fell alarmed.

"Yes, I have lived with her for over a year in a house of ill-repute, but it has been a year of death for me. Why was I born, and why do I live, and why have I not the courage to die?"

MOTHER TAUGHT HER.

"Yes, until a year ago I was good, and I wanted to be—as awful as it is to say—all the wrong I know my mother has taught me.

"Every one whom I cared to know—even one drew aside as I passed, and it is hard to be turned against. Yes, I have been bad, but I wanted so hard to be good."

To whom does the condemning finger point, and you, whoever you are, what right have you to cast the first stone? Heredity and environment count for much, and from the shelter of your protecting home can you condemn? Can you, who have had no temptation?

Can you not pity her—this girl of but twenty years—judge her leniently if you can, and to her credit be recorded this speech: "I loved a man, but I loved him so that I could not drag him down to shame, and while he did not know, I gave him up." Surely, a girl with a love like that is not all bad—surely there must be some explanation for her sins which, though many seem more her misfortune than her fault.

Look at this case from the side of humanity, not convention. This is a case in which a mother sold her daughter for less than thirty pieces of silver.

★ DIES IN HOSPITAL.

HOW A MOTHER SOLD DAUGHTER

was met by a cab and taken to a queer-looking house—a house notorious to all the country around. For two days she was confined there, two days of horror, and then she ran away. Emily Kleugel, the stepdaughter of Harry Marks—herself an inmate of the house—aided her to escape, and in a burst of tears, wishing herself dead, cried: "Oh, you must leave this awful place, this terrible life—death is preferable a thousand times. I was virtuous until not many months ago; I was virtuous until I found out what my mother was. When day and night she plied me to lead her life, when sickness came and I lost one position, after another; when I was scorned and ignored by all the world, and people drew aside as I passed, I finally yielded to my mother's persuasions, finally lost my grip, and here I am."

STRENUOUS LIFE.

A strenuous life? you ask. Yes, surely a strenuous life, and the saddest life I have ever known.

Born in Quincy, Plumas county, Emily Kleugel has since a tiny child been buffeted about, been tossed from one place to another, from an orphan asy-

The Office Boy and His Opportunities

When you come to think about it, boys and flowers are a great deal alike—both of us are raised in much the same way—some of us in hot-houses—tenderly cared for, others just sprung up and grow like the weeds uncultivated and untrained. My growth has been on the mushroom order, only going on thirteen years old and here I am an office boy for a big firm like this and so many people want to know who I am, just as if they don't see me every day and know my name is Willie—Well, I want to begin work on our spring stuff. The new goods have arrived and we are getting them ready. I say we, for I help pick up the hats after they are pulled out of the cases, and that's helping some. I want the mothers of Alameda county's boys—our boys—to see the individual display we are making in nobby suits. Center window north side and say, gee, but they are swell, but then a wax headed dummy isn't in it with you boys—come and look at um.

lum when her mother considered her too much trouble, to the home of her villainous parent when she needed her. "Did I try to get work—oh, so hard, but I'm not strong."

Not strong? Her description, you ask? Grey eyes, I believe, although they were almost overshadowed by her brown hair; thin and pale and torion; tall and slim, with her face all blotched, her nose all red, and her eyes all swollen with crying. In many stories treating upon such subjects, vice is painted in letters of gold, the heroine as dashing, fascinating, beautiful, and the surroundings but short of palatial. Thus the story-tellers depict it. Are they not responsible for much? Thus the novelists picture the life of the demi-monde. But to this girl, as to many others, the picture is turned to the wall, and only the seamed canvas is shown. For her the gold of the letters has turned to dross, her face is blotched and lined, and her home is the prison.

"Yes, I tried to work," she told me, "but what could I do? If I left home, where could I go on $2.50 a week? Yes, that is all I received, but it was better than nothing, and my mother would rather I gave her that than nothing at all. From eight in the morning till six at night, and ten on Saturday, I worked."

"And for $2.50 a week?" I cried.

VOICE OF FATE.

To me her "Yes" sounded like the voice of fate—even yet it rings in my ears—$2.50 per week!

The voice of fate! Yes. For what is fate but the inevitable destiny of such people. Can you now wonder, have you now the heart to ask why vice flourishes, while virtue starves? This is the age of money! So it seems, when even a mother will forfeit her daughter's soul for a dollar.

"I have tried to leave this life—it kills me. See how thin I am," and two blue speckled hands sought mine, "but it was the place I called home, and she was my mother. Even though she did wrong, I loved her and when she kept after me day and night, I fell."

There were sobs upon sobs, until I fell alarmed.

"Yes, I have lived with her for over a year in a house of ill-repute, but it has been a year of death for me. Why was I born, and why do I live, and why have I not the courage to die?"

MOTHER TAUGHT HER.

"Yes, until a year ago I was good, and I wanted to be—as awful as it is to say—all the wrong I know my mother has taught me.

"Every one whom I cared to know—even one drew aside as I passed, and it is hard to be turned against. Yes, I have been bad, but I wanted so hard to be good."

George Washington Truth Telling

Quite generally writers on moral subjects lament the almost universal departure from the high standard of truth telling attributed to the fathers of our country. So generally is this true in business activities that people have learned to discount liberally the claims and statements by tradesmen unless by a long course of hard dealing they have won the confidence of the public. This last is the only way in which big business can be built up and maintained and is the plan adopted by the Oakland Furniture Co. in all its dealings and advertising. Along this line we make the following statements which will do you good—and us—to know.

WE WANT YOU TO KNOW that we have a complete, high grade stock of house furnishings which you will want when you need any.

WE WANT YOUR MONEY. We have never said nor advertised, "We don't want your money." "Keep your cash" or other similar untrue statements. We, as well as every other firm, sell cheaper for cash than for credit.

WE WANT YOUR TRADE. If you don't have the ready money we will sell you on time at a small advance. If credit will be an accommodation to you, just come in and say so and you will be surprised at what we can do for you when compared with what others are doing.

WE WANT YOU TO BE SATISFIED. Not only satisfied that the goods are of good quality and finish, that the prices are the lowest obtainable, but also that you have been treated courteously and fairly in every way. In short,

WE WANT YOU TO ADVERTISE US. If anything is wrong we will make it right or your money back.

WE WANT YOU TO VISIT OUR STORE. Come in whether you wish to buy at present or not. You may leave many things to your advantage. All our prices are in plain figures at their actual selling price to you and everyone the same.

POINT GAINED BY HOME TELEPHONE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The members of the Public Utilities and Street Committees, together with several other members of the Board of Supervisors were closeted with the Mayor for several hours yesterday afternoon, discussing the advisability of reopening the question of granting a franchise to the Home Telephone Company to install a system of automatic telephones in this city. No representatives from the company were present, but the Mayor laid the question before the Supervisors, and, after expressing his views in the matter, asked for theirs. The history of the telephone discussion was reviewed, as well as the action of the former Board of Supervisors, and the failure of the four-hour hold to bring an agreement from the company was criticized.

It being the general opinion of those present that the former Public Utilities Committee should have reported on the petition in one way or another.

Few of the present members of the board have had an opportunity to go into the pros and cons of the telephone question themselves, and it was decided, therefore, to postpone the whole until next day afternoon, when a report on the petition will be submitted to the Mayor.

The Home Telephone will be given an opportunity to present its case to the present Public Utilities Committee, of which Supervisor Boston is chairman.

Each of the prisoners stood mute, refusing to plead.

Attorney E. F. Richardson, representing the defense, demanded an immediate preliminary hearing, but it finally was agreed that the case should go over until next Tuesday, when a further continuance may be ordered.

The three prisoners this afternoon were brought back to Boise, and were taken to the State penitentiary, where they will be kept in close confinement. They were committed without bail. They will be permitted to read books.

ANNUAL FAIR AT CLOVERDALE OPENS

CLOVERDALE, Feb. 21.—The fourteenth annual exhibit of the Cloverdale Citrus Fair Association opened last evening in the enlarged pavilion with a large attendance. Shortly after 8 o'clock Allen B. Lemmon of Santa Rosa was introduced to the assembly by Director Charles E. Humbert and delivered a fine address, in which he complimented the people of Cloverdale for the beauties of their annual exhibits and the energy and enthusiasm displayed in their arrangement. He also gave the people great praise for their charming manner of depicting to the world at large what the community of Cloverdale could do in the line of citrus fruits, and showing that Southern California had no monopoly of this industry.

Before the address of the evening the band, under the leadership of D. C. Smith, gave a short concert, and after the address the concert was continued until midnight.

The pavilion was thronged with the people of Cloverdale and vicinity, who manifested the greatest interest in the beautiful designs of citrus fruits, in which the orange, lemon, pomelo, citron, olive and other fruits vied for public approval. The designs this year are fully up to the high standard set previous exhibits, and among them are half a dozen or more that move some propelled by electric motors and others by water power.

FUNERAL OF JOHN A. MCCALL. NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The funeral of John A. McCall, late president of the New York Life Insurance Company, was held today at the Roman Catholic church of the Blessed Sacrament.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The validity of a Dakota divorce in England was today affirmed by Sir John Gorrell Barnes, Judge of the divorce court division of the High Court of Justice. The questions were raised by the wife, Mrs. Armitage, who petitioned the court to declare her marriage to Armitage void.

She formerly was the wife of Charles Gillig, an American living in London and North and South Dakota, where she obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion and subsequently married Mr. Armitage.

Mr. Gillig also remarried, but last year brought proceedings to nullify his marriage the ground that the divorce which his first wife obtained in South Dakota was not binding upon him and that consequently his second marriage was invalid.

Justice Barnes decided against Mr. Gillig's contention.

District Attorney Morrison then took up the subject of the conversations between representatives of Swift & Company and Commissioner Garfield. He asked, "Did Mr. Garfield—"

"Did Mr. Charles H. Swift say in the presence of Charles H. Swift that you had said in previous conversations that all the information taken would be regarded as confidential?"

"He did not."

"Did he say that you had said that none of the information would be used to harm Swift & Company?"

"He did not."

The witness then described the interview between Jesse P. Lyman, president of the National Packing Company, and himself.

"Did you say anything to Mr. Lyman about your power to compel the production of books and papers?"

"He did not."

"Did you say to Mr. Lyman that all information would be confidential and would not be used to injure the packers?"

"He did not."

During the introduction of evidence by packers, affirmation was made by different witnesses to nearly all of the questions to which Commissioner Garfield entered a direct denial.

When Commissioner Garfield attempted to tell what instructions he had given to his agents prior to the commencement of the investigation, the attorney for the packers objected strongly, but after a long argument between the lawyers, the witness was allowed to state what the instructions were. He declared that he told the agents of the department that if access was given to the books of the packers they were to go to the books; that no detective methods should be used; that there would be no use of compulsory powers or a suggestion of such a position on the part of the government. If disputed arose, they were to be referred to the commissioner for adjustment.

District Attorney Morrison asked what information had been secured by the commissioners outside of the books of the packers. Commissioner Garfield said that much of it had been secured from the bureau of animal industry, as well as from cattle raisers, feeders and commission men. Butchers were questioned regarding the prices of retail meats.

BITE OF A SPIDER CAUSES BOY'S DEATH

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 21.—The bite of a black spider brought agonizing death to Edmund Seccombe, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Seccombe, prominent residents of this city, Monday night. Saturday the child, while playing in the hay mow, was bitten on the ankle. The injury was not thought serious. Home remedies were applied, but these failed to bring relief, and Sunday night, when convulsions and unconsciousness came, doctors were hurriedly summoned.

They announced at once that the poison had progressed too far to hope for successful treatment, but every means was employed to relieve the suffering of the child, who raved wildly all Sunday night and Monday. The leg which had been bitten had swelled to twice its normal size when death came. Chloroform was liberally administered during the period of the child's intense suffering.

GREAT PERFORMANCE AT YE LIBERTY

DURING the two years that Oakland's handsome playhouse "Ye Liberty" has been open, Manager Bishop has certainly given some excellent performances, but nothing that he has yet presented has excelled the really sumptuous production of Justin Huntley McCarthy's play "The Proud Prince." This play was presented about two years ago to a full house of high-priced western company, and it is only fair to the local management to admit that the present performance at Ye Liberty will stand comparison with the original one in every particular. Franklin Underwood, who assumed the role of "Robert of Shrewsbury," gave an interpretation of the difficult role that showed most careful thought and study and which dramatically was really a fine performance. Donald Bowles was fair as the archdeacon. Lowe Ingraham was the favorite boy of the stage, the play "Amelia Gardner" always sold, no matter in what kind of a role she appears, and Miss Marie Gordon, one of the younger recruits of the Bishop forces, surprised everyone by her fair work in the trying role of Lycabettus.

As to the play itself, it certainly teaches a lesson that cannot fail to be impressed on the minds of all who see it. The entire third act is an impressive as any sermon and no one can witness it without feeling the better for it. It is only fitting to compare with that wonderful old morality play "Everyman." The setting and costumes are magnificent.

Frohman's great comedy success "Because She Loved Him So," will be the next offering.

CALLED A FAKE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The charges recently made in the Senate by Senator McCumber that the National Food Manufacturers' Association is a "fake" organization, were discussed at length today before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, which is conducting hearings on pure food bills. Thomas E. Lannan of Chicago, secretary of the association, said the association has among its members representatives of leading grocery firms, manufacturers of preservatives and canners, and represents millions of dollars of capital. He denied the charge that the organization is the one which is not well known and established for the legitimate protection of wholesalers and retailers of goods, which would be affected by the proposed Hepburn bill.

A vote will be had upon the pure food bill before adjournment today.

STOP POOL SELLING.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 21.—The town of Highland Park, a suburb, last night passed an ordinance forbidding the selling of pools within the limits of its boundaries. If the ordinance is enforced, the Western Jockey Club will be without a racetrack in Louisville, for the Douglas track, recently acquired, is within the limits of Highland

TAKES BROTHER CHICAGO HAS A MYSTERY

COURT PERMITS ACCUSED BOY TO GO IN CHARGE OF HIS RELATIVE.

BODY OF A MAN IS FOUND ON STREET IN FASHIONABLE DISTRICT.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The body of a man apparently about 45 years old was found today in the gutter at the corner of Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue, in the heart of one of the fashionable residence districts on the south side of the city. There was a bullet hole above the right ear and a cheap revolver lay near the corpse, but the police are unable yet to state whether it is a case of murder or suicide. His brother, who has taken upon himself the care of his son, is still missing.

Ebenezer Johnson, an alleged incorrigible youth, 14 years of age, was given another chance this morning by Judge T. W. Harris and allowed to go home with his brother, C. J. Johnson, an employee of the Union Iron Works, who agreed to give the boy a home and try to straighten him up. The youth had a wild, scared, restless look and bore the marks of being the bad boy of the family. He smiled when the court made the order giving him his liberty but returned the frowning looks of his sisters, Mrs. Hattie Stone and Mrs. Sarah Hansen, and skirring away from them sunk out of court.

His brother, who has taken upon himself the care of his son, is still missing.

After the necessary order had been given, Mrs. Cooks, the grandmother, was then asked by Judge Ellsworth if she would take the child under such conditions. She said that she would. When that, she would be allowed to go to the University. She was then told by the court that she would either have to consent to such a condition or go without the child, and, after some slight hesitation, she consented.

Judge Ellsworth, in reply said, "Well, sir, that is not the question. The plaintiff in this action has come in here to consent to your request to take the child and it is for the Court to make the conditions. You will agree to this or nothing."

OBJECTS TO CONDITIONS. "Well, it is just possible, your honor, that my client will not agree to take the child under such conditions," replied Mr. F. W. Foy.

JACK LONDON IS WORKING FOR POOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The recent visit of Jack London was attended with such a popular demonstration that he has been brought before the public eye even more than by reason of his remarkable fiction.

Probably the most virile and distinctive figure among living Americans, and the sweet and simple story of a sincere, loving country girl in her endeavor to obtain the favor of her king, Charles II of England, is presented in a most clever and interesting manner. As "Nell Gwynne" Miss Stewart is most captivating. Her ease of manner, her naturally sweet face and ability all tend to make the play a charming one. Nothing has been done to mar the beauty of the piece, and the costumes are elaborate reproductions of the period of the sixteenth century, the time of the action of the piece. The most enthralling bit of Miss Stewart's acting occurs in the third act when she impersonates the chief justice of England. To thoroughly appreciate Miss Stewart she must be seen; no mere pen can describe her genial stage presence. There will be three more performances of Nell Gwynne tonight, tomorrow, and Saturday.

Attorney Foy reiterated that he had gone back into it again to make sure, and had told Hewitt a second time.

Judge Ellsworth said he did not care to go into the matter any further and the discussion was dropped.

LITERARY NOTES OF THE WEEK

SOME INTERESTING BOOKS AND MAGAZINES WORTH READING.

That Anna Katherine Greene, Conant Doyle and the other writers into mystery in literature's rooms have by no means exhausted all there is of interest in that line is shown by the latest book of Alfred Wilson-Baird, entitled "The Silver Pin."

The book is thrilling from start to finish and pictures in a most powerful manner the scenes and incidents leading up to and following the startling tragedy. The unfolding of the tale holds the reader's attention ceaselessly, and the climax is worked up in picturesque and dramatic style.

Mr. Baird shows his ability in more ways than one in the construction of his story, the plot being well worked out, the characters logically and naturally portrayed, and the entire tale fraught with an ever-increasing interest from beginning to end.

Published by the Saalfield Publishing Company, Akron, Ohio.

A collection of the best of the stories from Miss Edgeworth's volume, entitled "The Parents' Assistant," one of the most popular as well as most charming of old-time children's books has been made and retold by Clinton Johnson and published under the title "Parents Want Not Stories." The tales are well told and any child would be pleased to have them in children's hands. Published by the American Book Company, New York.

A study of general European history is given by Samuel Bannister Harding in "The History of Europe," a new volume entitled "Essentials of Medieval and Modern History." The book takes the reader from the time of Charlemagne to the present day and is carefully prepared and well edited. Published by the American Book Company, New York.

"Elements of German Grammar" is the title of a new volume by Thomas Jappe, teacher of German in New York's Elementary School. It is intended for the use of those in the first year of German and also contains songs in that language. Published by American Book Company, New York.

A group of Alexander Dumas' stories in French has been published under the title "Excuses, Sou Los Solds Du Roi." Mr. Theodore Henges' introduction, devoted mainly to a discussion before and after the death of Dumas. Published by American Book Company, New York.

A new book for children from the pen of Maude Barrows Dutton, under the title "In Field and Pasture," is cut this is one of the World's Best Books. Published by American Book Company, San Francisco.

James Baldwin is still telling stories. He is the author of "The City," "Stories Recited and now has issued "Stories Retold." These should prove invaluable to interesting children in story. Published by American Book Company, New York.

Another volume from the pen of James Baldwin is his story of "Cruor" written anew for children, with apologies to Daniel Defoe. Published by American Book Company, New York.

"Original Exercises in Plane and Solid Geometry" is the title of a new volume by Lovell Conant, professor of mathematics in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Published by American Book Company, New York.

Another volume in the Gateway series, the general editor of which is Henry Van Dyke, has made its appearance. This is in reference to Julius Caesar, and is edited in an excellent manner by Hamilton Wright Mabie. Published by Hamilton Wright Mabie, New York.

"An Elementary Text Book of Theoretical Mechanics" is the title of a volume from the pen of George A. Miller, B. S., principal of the California School of Mechanical Arts and director of the Whilmerding School of Industrial Arts, San Francisco. It is intended for use by the advanced students in this line and should prove valuable. Published by the American Book Company, New York.

WILL BE A STRIKE

President Mitchell Does
Not Look for a Big Battle.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 21.—"As far as I know now there will be a strike."

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, who arrived here today from New York, made the above statement to the Associated Press at noon today at the Hotel Henry.

"I am not here to have any conferences with the bituminous operators," he said. "My visit to Pittsburgh is to investigate the troubles existing between the officers and delegates of the Pittsburgh district organization. I will announce myself later in the day regarding the Pittsburgh situation."

"Well it be necessary to reconvene the national convention before a settlement can be made between the miners and coal operators under the Ryan resolution adopted at the national convention at Indianapolis?" President Mitchell was asked.

"The national president interprets the laws of the Miners' Union," he replied.

"You mean that you can effect a settlement in any district?"

"Ask Secretary Wilson," said Mr. Mitchell.

"And the secretary is not discussing the Ryan situation at this time," Secretary Wilson immediately replied.

"Will there be a strike on April 1st?" President Mitchell was asked.

"As far as I now know," answered President Mitchell (with considerable hesitancy), "there will be a strike."

In both bituminous and anthracite fields?

"I will positively say nothing more."

"Notwithstanding the details from you and F. L. Robbins, leader of the bituminous operators, reports are still persistent that you will hold a conference with Robbins," Mr. Mitchell was told.

"There is nothing in the reports," he replied. "Being in Pittsburgh, of course, I will see Mr. Robbins, probably some time today."

President Mitchell held a conference with the special committee representing the delegates of the Pittsburgh district miners convention this morning. He announced at the noon adjournment that he would confer with the attorneys of the delegates, after which he would likely be in a position to make a statement.

PROMINENT GUESTS AT THIS BANQUET

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—A reception and banquet will be given in honor of the 17th anniversary of the birthday of George Washington on Thursday evening, February 22, at 7 o'clock, at the St. Francis Hotel, by the California Society, Sons of the American Revolution, and by the Sequoia and Puerto del Oro, California and Oakland chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and by the Valentine Holt Society of the Children of the American Revolution. The program will be followed by Rev. Charles A. Ladd, rector of the Church of the Advent, San Francisco; introductory remarks, by Edward Mills Adams, president of the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and by Rev. Charles A. Ladd, rector of the Church of the Advent, San Francisco. There will be music by a vocal quartet and an orchestra.

It is expected that the occasion will be a notable one, for the reason that this is the first time that the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution have united in such a celebration. Among the guests will be Gen. L. C. Smith, Mrs. Wheeler, President David Starr Jordan, Governor Pardee and Mrs. Pardee, Judge Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, Chief Justice Beatty and Mrs. Beatty, General Norton and Mrs. Norton, Rear-Admiral John G. Walker, and Mrs. Walker, Colonel Charles Morris and Mrs. Morris.

AUTOMOBILE PARTY IS NEARLY KILLED

A most miraculous escape from death was experienced by Emil Carban of San Francisco, his wife, and Mrs. H. Poeller, when the automobile in which they were Leandro road, throwing the three occupants to the ground. Both women were badly bruised by the fall and the machine was demolished.

Carban is employed by an automobile agency and Mrs. Poeller is a wealthy widow who lives near San Rafael. Mrs. Poeller had been negotiating with Carban for a machine and last evening the agent undertook to display its particular merits. With his wife he took Mrs. Poeller for a spin on the San Leandro road and when near High street the machine became unmanageable. The steering gear got out of order and Carban, in trying to avoid a passing car turned into an excavation.

Dr. Conrad of San Francisco, was passing and offered his services, but they were not necessary. Carban and the two ladies, however, rode in Dr. Conrad's automobile to Oakland, where they took the train for San Francisco. The automobile was left on the San Leandro road.

HUNDREDS OF STUDENTS WILL SELL PIANOS

Dixon Business College is Offered Prizes by Eilers Music Company for Greatest Number of Sales and Hundreds of Young Men and Women Enter Contest.

IF YOU ARE BUYING A PIANO, TELL THE STUDENTS

The Eilers Music Company has secured what is probably the greatest piano sales force ever recorded in the history of music. Nearly 300 young men and women of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda are now looking out for prospective piano buyers, and it is safe to say that what 300 strenuous Americans can't find does not exist.

The prize is a beautiful new upright piano, to be chosen by the contestants themselves whenever a certain number of sales have been accomplished. Other incentives have also been offered whereby the premium is placed upon individual effort as well. And the whole thing has been so figured out according to the regular cost of selling each piano that the same prices and the same music lesson offer can be continued without increasing the expense in the least.

This is by far the greatest coup ever made by any business concern and the Eilers Music Company is to be congratulated in the highest terms for securing it.

Every salesman works through an immediate circle of acquaintances, and the greater the number of salesmen, the more circles of people are reached. Think, then, of being able to reach 300 different sets of friends and of having the power to tell them by word of mouth about the music lesson sale which this company has in progress.

Over two weeks ago the Oakland store of the Eilers Music Company, which includes a chain of fifteen stores over the Pacific Coast, made the announcement that up to March 5, or until a hundred instruments were sold, they would sell every piano at absolutely wholesale price, and in addition to this would give a course of six months' music lessons free (with free instruction books supplied by the factories) to every purchaser, and would also allow each purchaser to choose his own music teacher from the entire list of the 300 teachers who reside in the city.

Since that time pianos have sold like ribbons, until now it is a toss-up whether or not the hundred are sold before the time is up.

Scores of buyers who have investigated the offer and made their purchases have recommended their friends and their friends have recommended others, until at the present time it is the talk of the entire music loving people of this side of the country.

And this was the very reason announced for holding this sale—the object of securing 100 immediate purchases under such favorable buying circumstances.

START RUN ON BANK

HYPNOTISM ALLEGED

Lively Scene at the Jackson Trust Company Today.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A run was started today on the Jackson Trust and Savings Bank, it being thought by many of the depositors that the institution is involved by the failure of the Bank of America three days ago.

At the hour set for the opening of the bank 300 depositors were in waiting, and as soon as the doors were opened they commenced to withdraw their funds. It is known that the institution is a loser through loans to F. C. Creelman, whose loans from the Bank of America were the immediate cause of the closing of that concern.

The amount of money loaned to Creelman by the Jackson Trust and Savings Bank is said to be $15,000, but stories on the streets by which the depositors were alarmed put the amount at several times $25,000.

At 1 o'clock it was announced by the officers that the commercial department would close at 3 o'clock as usual, but that the savings department would remain open until 5 o'clock in order to pay off depositors.

Officers of the other banks that called at the office of the Jackson Trust and Savings Bank early in the day declared that there was no doubt that the institution was in good condition and could easily withstand the run.

Judge Landis, in the Federal Court to-day, appointed John J. Knickerbocker receiver for the estate of F. C. Creelman, in bonds of $50,000. He was also appointed receiver of the Aronson Lumber Company, a corporation in which Mr. Creelman is heavily interested. The bonds in this case were fixed at $10,000.

I HAVE COME TO BURN THE INFIRMARY!

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 21.—It is reported here that an attempt was made to burn the County Infirmary last night. The statement of the officials of the Infirmary is that a strange tramp wandered in there and said that he was coming there to burn the infirmary, giving as his reason that he had been there for twenty years and they had never given him anything to eat but a fishbone. He had some oats in a tobacco sack, which he said he had poached.

Consolidated Olympia of San Leandro was notified and sent the man to the Sheriff's Office. Later he was sent back to the infirmary upon the instructions of the District Attorney.

The man is about 45 years old and has one eye. He refuses to give his name.

AFTER GOVERNOR.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 21.—Senator Gilliland of Minnesota introduced in the Senate today a resolution demanding that Governor Cummins be forced to prove the truth of his statement that the railroads of Iowa were using money to defeat the primary bill.

The resolution demands "that the Governor communicate in writing to the Legislature, facts, first, as to how money is being used by the railroads to defeat the primary bill; second, what legislators, if any, have been recipients of this money, and third, who are the masters of intrigue that are spending the winter in Des Moines and where they are located." Senator Gilliland demanded of the Senate that they vote to pass the bill or else confess that they are among the men who are mentioned as being influenced by the railroads.

WIRELESS TO BE USED IN NORTH

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—Wireless communication between Seattle and Cape Flattery and a life saving station on Waadah Island, near the entrance to the Pacific ocean, will be included in the recommendations to be made to Congress by Commissioners Murray, Smith and Burwell, who have returned to Seattle after a two days' voyage down the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Both Mr. Murray and Mrs. Smith said this morning that they would recommend to the officials at Washington at once that a wireless station be established at Cape Flattery. Their recommendation regarding a life saving station on Waadah Island will be included in the report to President Roosevelt. It is the plan of the commissioners to also recommend the placing of a wireless station at Point Partridge, on Whidby Island.

JAPS WITH MEDALS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Steamer Alameda arrived from Honolulu today with thirty Japanese who wear all kinds of medals given to them by the Mikado for bravery in the recent Japanese war. The steamer made the trip from Honolulu in five days and eighteen hours.

NAMED FOR OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate in the patent office: Examiner in Chief in the patent office, John M. Coit, South Carolina; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, John H. Edwards of Ohio.

WOMEN BEWARE! RAILWAY MATTERS

This Swindler Attempts to Give You Bad Money.

Deputy Constable R. J. Silva has in his hands a John Doe warrant for the arrest of an individual who is considered to be one of the cleverest "bad money" passers which has ever visited this section of the country.

A fairly good description of the man has been obtained by the constable from his victims, who are largely housewives. The method of the crook is peculiar and while he has met with great success in his "film flan" game, at the first instance, it is suspected almost as soon as he leaves the house where he solicits.

The man pretends to be a representative of a large wholesale China-ware house in the East. In no case has he given the same firm name. The Howard Company, the Addison-Jones Manufacturing Company, the Hurlbut Supply Company are some of the names given by the man. His mode of working his game is to offer a premium of $25—a free gift—with the purchase of $200 worth of household wares.

The first word that the man offers to the woman of the house is: "Oh, I beg your pardon. Does Mrs. Brown live here?"

When told that no such name is connected with the house the man replies that he may have made a mistake in the name but that the "lady" next door has given him an order and mentioned his neighbor's name.

Then comes a very plausible tale of goods offered, premiums paid, large orders and blanks showing what is alleged to be "first class." The solicitor then starts in to inveigle the "woman of the house" into buying out installments of his goods. The small sum of $5 is asked for as a primary payment and if the woman is unable to make the change then Mr. Crook shan't clinching the change in his own pocket.

MONEY IS BOGUS.

He flashes a big roll of bills and when clinching the change in his pocket draws on his store which has proven to be bogus. The suburbs are flooded with bad coin and several cases are instanced in Oakland proper where bad money has been handed out.

Constable Silva believes that he has a good line on the man and expects to land him before the bars before the week is out. The stranger is described as being about 5 feet 8 inches in height; wears dark clothes with a light Feodora hat. He sports patent leather shoes and has a most convincing manner of address. He is smooth shaven and appears to be about thirty years of age.

The buying public seldom, if ever, overlooks the largest institution of its kind; for magnitude implies a great many things.

"The Biggest Furniture House" signifies, for example; the shrewdest purchasing agents and the largest purchases. To understand this better, try to buy one chair, and then try to buy a thousand. You will see the power of magnitude. Then go to two manufacturers and ask for a bid on a thousand chairs; and, when you have watched the price come down almost to cost, you will see the power of shrewdness.

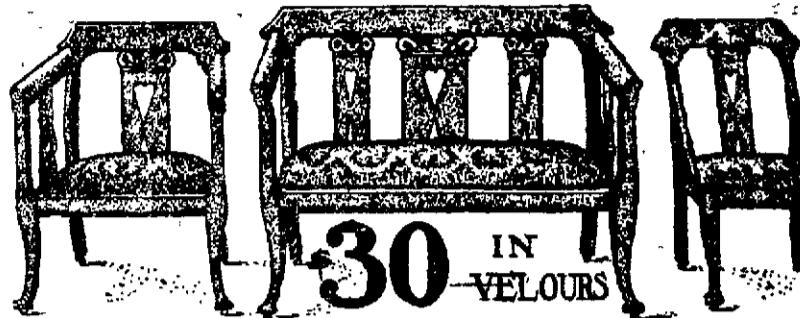

Magnitude also implies fairness and "a square deal."

For, especially with a credit house, people are quick to resent unfair methods and quick to tell about them, so that no unfair concern could become the largest of its line. For these reasons we ask your patronage.

Health of American Women

A Subject Much Discussed at Women's Clubs—The Future of a Country Depends on the Health of Its Women.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen Miss Mattie Henry

At the New York State Assembly of Mothers, a prominent New York doctor told the 300 women present that healthy American women were so rare as to be almost extinct.

This seems to be a sweeping statement of the condition of American women. Yet how many do you know who are perfectly well and do not have some trouble arising from a derangement of the female organism which manifests itself in headaches, backaches, nervousness, bearing-down feeling, painful or irregular periods, pelvic catarrh, displacement of the female organs, indigestion or sleeplessness? There is a tried and true remedy for all these ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more American women to health than all other remedies in the world. It regulates, strengthens, and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can. For thirty years it has been curing the worst forms of female complaints.

Such testimony as the following should be convincing.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Menning, Ia., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

I can truly say that you have saved my life and I cannot express my gratitude in words. For two years I spent a lot of money in doctoring without any benefit for female irregularities and I had given up all hopes of ever being well again, but I was persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and three bottles have restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 21.—August Berkut, 12 years of age, was shot and killed by his uncle, William Berndt, 18 years of age, at the boy's home in Irondequoit. The uncle had been reading "yellow" novels and was illustrating according to his own admission, "how heroes fight." He forgot the revolver was loaded. He has been placed under arrest on the charge of manslaughter.

IMMENSE SUM FOR METEORITE

PORLTAND, Or., Feb. 21.—The famous Willamette meteorite has been sold to a New York scientist who will present it to the American Museum of Natural History in New York City. The price paid was $20,000, which is said to be the highest price ever given for a meteorite.

The huge mass of ore is one of the best specimens of meteorite ever discovered, weighing about fifteen tons. It was found near the banks of the Tualatin river in Clackamas county, Oregon. After its discovery it was the object of much litigation between those who claimed to have found it.

MINERS TO FIGHT

Defense of Arrested Officers of Western Federation Planned.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 21.—A meeting of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners probably will be called within a week to adopt plans for the defense of the officers now under arrest in Idaho. James Kirwan, a member of the board, arrived yesterday from Terry, S. D. Vice-President J. C. Williams of Grass Valley, Cal., will reach here today. The members of the federation, it is said, will be asked to subscribe money to defend Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone.

"We will secure the best legal talent obtainable in the country," said Kirwan. "The rank and file of the members of the federation believe in the innocence of their officers, and will see that they have justice if such a thing is procurable."

The charges brought against our men are the same ones which have been trumped up by the mine owners so many times. Fifty-three of us were arrested after the Independence explosion, but none was ever prosecuted.

Our arrest was made merely for political effect.

"It is a queer thing that every time any one has made a special confession it has been proven beyond a doubt that he was in the employ of the Mine Owners' Association. O'Farrell is in the same boat as the other confessors. If the evidence against our officers is as strong as they say it is, why did not they allow them to have a hearing in Colorado? Such evidence as that would surely have been sufficient grounds to allow requisition instead of to warrant kidnapping."

As a counter charge to that made by the Flirkertons that the officers of the Western Federation formed a conspiracy to murder all sympathizers with the mine owners in Colorado, Mr. Kirwan declares that the mine owners have formed a conspiracy to break up the federation through charges trumped up against its officers.

TO SAVE LIVES OF POOR

MEXICAN OFFICIALS PLAN TO ERECT NUMEROUS MODEL TENEMENTS.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 21.—Governor Landaz of the Federal district and high officials of the government have under consideration a broad plan for the rehousing of the poor of this city.

It is proposed to tear down whole blocks of houses in the poorer quarters and erect groups of model tenements where the poor will have an abundant supply of water and light and be given every modern sanitary advantage. Only by this plan it is believed can the present high cost of fifty-two per 1000 be reduced permanently.

It is thought that the operation can be made financially profitable. The Federal District Government is actively pushing its sanitation campaign with satisfactory results.

BREAK RECORD, BUT NO EGGS, IN SHIPMENTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Shipments of eggs to the local market yesterday broke all previous records. The receipts amounted to about 22,000 cases. With the enormous shipment prices dropped to a level reached only once before, about nine years ago.

Those who will suffer by the heavy shipments and low prices are the speculators in eggs, who are engaged in the entire egg production of the country. The same period last year, gave a good illustration of the condition of the market.

The best fresh eggs, which are selling wholesale now for 14 cents a dozen, were 30 cents a year ago. Storage eggs were then 30 to 32 cents, while at present they are selling for 9 and 10 cents.

These conditions of the market are due to the over-supply and a very liberal production. Owners say that the prices will remain low until the stock of storage eggs is disposed of.

INSTITUTE SEARCH FOR MISSING WEALTH

PORLTAND, Me., Feb. 21.—R. C. Foster, a local attorney, has been searching for the property of John Stinson, a mining promoter of San Francisco, whose body was supposed to have been found under suspicious circumstances near that city more than seven years ago. Foster was engaged by Mrs. Sarah Conner of Portland, the sister of Stinson. When Stinson visited Maine nearly eight years ago he had $60,000 in government bonds, and it was supposed that he had considerable property in the West.

The search is continuing concerning the identity of the body found near San Francisco, and relatives had made no decided attempt to locate Stinson's estate until recently. Under the laws of California a man who has not been heard of for seven years is considered dead. An investigation by Attorney Foster failed to locate any property or value in California. When the body supposed to be that of Stinson was found it was supposed the man had been murdered.

EARNED A SHILLING.

Magistrate and M. P.—After mature and careful consideration of your case I have come to the conclusion that you are a lax, good-for-nothing rogue. May I ask if you ever earned a shilling in your life?—P. R. F. Portland, Ore., 1905.

COLLINS ON STAND

Denies That He Ever Was Married to Charlotte.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Humorous at first, hopeless before it was over, was the position of George D. Collins under the relentless cross-examination of Hiram Johnson, which occupied the greater part of the session of the court yesterday.

All that jaunty affability which the accused manifested on the occasion of the first trial had evaporated and left him meek under the grilling fire of questions. He seldom volunteered explanations of the inconsistencies into which he was led time and again by the ceaseless prodding of Johnson.

Collins was at a disadvantage from the start. He was shut in from escape on three sides. There was the testimony of the witnesses called by the people, making one connected story of his strange life. Then there was his own account of it as he told it at Victoria, and the story as he retold it at the former trial. Each of these accounts was different from the other two. And to add to his distress, Johnson read now and again from the narrative of the marriage, as Collins had told it before the Bar Association, and as he had dictated it again to the Mine Owners' Association. O'Farrell is in the same boat as the other confessors. If the evidence against our officers is as strong as they say it is, why did not they allow them to have a hearing in Colorado?

Such evidence as that would surely have been sufficient grounds to allow requisition instead of to warrant kidnapping."

As a counter charge to that made by the Flirkertons that the officers of the Western Federation formed a conspiracy to murder all sympathizers with the mine owners in Colorado, Mr. Kirwan declares that the mine owners have formed a conspiracy to break up the federation through charges trumped up against its officers.

"It is a queer thing that every time any one has made a special confession it has been proven beyond a doubt that he was in the employ of the Mine Owners' Association. O'Farrell is in the same boat as the other confessors. If the evidence against our officers is as strong as they say it is, why did not they allow them to have a hearing in Colorado?

Such evidence as that would surely have been sufficient grounds to allow requisition instead of to warrant kidnapping."

CHARLOTTE AGAIN DENIED.

"It was Agnes I married, and not Charlotte," the witness asserted.

And here the situation arises, which seems to open the way for a possible endless chain of Collins trials: for if any juror should again be found among the twelve who should choose to believe Collins, in the face of the testimony of all the records and living witnesses, and by his act hang this fury, then there would be the same opening for a fresh indictment as there was at the close of the former trial. For it was because he uttered the same statement at that trial that he is being tried for perjury now. So an endless vista of Collins trials, stretching off into the dim future until—but this is to anticipate.

In his opening argument yesterday morning it was understood that Collins would tell the truth in half an hour. After he had taken his seat on the bench the Judge interrupted him with the gentle reminder that he had used half his time and had not stated a material fact. Again at the expiration of fifty minutes he was admonished that he would be allowed but fifteen minutes more. When he had concluded the only sentence which was material to the indictment was this one:

"We shall now show that it was Agnes and not Charlotte, whom the defendant married." The rest was as before, about other things.

At the end of the day it became apparent that Collins relied solely on his own testimony to prove his case. All the reputed witnesses were excluded, and the attempt to show an alleged conspiracy was frustrated by the ruling of the court.

One of the corners into which he was led in cross-examination was an attempt to describe the house where he had resided with Agnes Newman after the alleged contract marriage. It was somewhere on Geary street. It was torn down since. It was kept by Mrs. Smith but Mrs. Smith is gone. And he was unable to remember any one else who ever hired rooms from Mrs. Smith in the house somewhere on Geary street that has since been destroyed.

NO EVIDENCE.

The inability to produce any evidence of the alleged contract of marriage forced him to the statement that he had never had such a thing as a copybook in his office. But he asserts that he will positively produce a living lady who will take the stand and swear that all the witnesses of the contract marriage are dead, according to her own personal knowledge, which will prove something.

There was a man, he said, who wore the white, round collar of a priest who had searched with him for the marriage license and had seen him in store. But the priest was gone, too. He could not find him. The priest to whom Agnes made a dying confession that she was Mrs. Collins was also gone.

There are certain things about the defense that make it necessary that the defendant should not remember the date of the births of his children, and the most pitiful part of the cross-examination was when Collins said:

"I do not know the dates of their births. I was always out of the State at those times."

At 4 o'clock there were no other witnesses present for the defense, and an adjournment was taken until this morning.

WATER IS DISCUSSED

Merchants' Exchange Directors Hold a Meeting.

Water commanded considerable attention at the Merchants' Exchange directors' meeting. A committee had been appointed to report on the Spring Valley Water Company, and Theo Gler made a statement for the committee:

"I took upon myself," said he, "to get legal opinion on the question. There is no question in my mind that we have a good cause and the Supervisors ought to be authorized to vote money to defend the rights of the people in Livermore Valley and Niles canyon, whose property is being drained. We should interview all property owners there and get a petition signed in which there will be no more drainage. No time should be wasted in prosecuting the matter in a forcible way."

The committee was continued to act further in the matter.

For the committee on Broadway extension Secretary Walker reported progress, saying that several property owners had not yet been reached, but he expected they would be favorable to extension.

The question of sending a representative to the Chinese and Japanese Exclusion League was referred back to committee for a report next week.

Mr. Walker said he had secured numerous signatures of Franklin street property owners to a petition asking the Council to repair that street and would present the document next week.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communication was received from Congressman J. R. Knowland:

Your favor of the 7th instant relative to H. R. No. 3090, regarding claims against civil service employees is at hand. I am in thorough accord with the views of your association in this matter, believing that the civil service employees should be made to pay their just debts."

In the same line was the following from Senator George C. Perkins:

"I am in receipt of yours of the 7th inst. relative to H. R. No. 3090, and will gladly give it my careful consideration."

A letter from the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio, asked that the Exchange take out membership in the Congress. This was referred to a committee.

President Schlueter and Secretary Walker spoke up in the meeting for patronizing home industry. Attention was called to a movement in Spokane to have a certain label placed on all home manufactured goods. Mr. Schlueter suggested that some such idea be taken up by the Exchange.

This suggestion met with some opposition.

"Oakland is not Spokane," said one. "She is striving to be a metropolis and cannot afford to build a wall around herself." The manufacturers need a wider field than Oakland.

President Schlueter said the idea was not to confine sales of goods to Oakland, but to let Oakland know what is going on within her borders.

The proposition was not discussed further.

A nominating committee which will report a lot of new officers some time next month, was appointed, as follows:

H. C. Downey, H. C. Coward, D. C. Brown, Herman Gard, Fred Sinclair.

IMMIGRATION IN 1905.

It is too early in the season for the annual excitement over the immigration question. It generally rolls into the foreground of affairs somewhere along in April, disturbs the country for a few weeks, and then retires into comparative obscurity for the rest of the year. Coming on this subject as early as February is to be looked upon in the nature of a harbinger of the springtime asthma.

For the purposes of comparison, calendar years are as good as fiscal years. The year 1905 breaks the record. The figures for recent years are as follows:

1903 937,371
1904 1,005,257
1905 1,065,824

The immigration for this single year equals that of the entire fifty years following the inauguration of President Roosevelt. In numbers it doubles the population of Baltimore, and nearly doubles the population of such cities as Boston and St. Louis. It would exceed the entire population of Connecticut, with 100,000 surplus to spare. It would repopulate Vermont and New Hampshire combined, with 250,000 to spare.

These people came, as usual, from all the corners of the earth, but particularly from the southeastern corner of Europe. The arrivals from Greece, Turkey, Roumania, Serbia, and Bulgaria constitute an interesting total of between 25,000 and 30,000. The hordes came from Russia, Italy, and Austria-Hungary. The following shows the flood from those countries during the last three years:

1902 1804
1903 147,623
1904 211,610
1905 176,823

Russia 147,623
Hungary 122,636
Austria 16,703

Ignorance and Rude Assumption.

Some days ago we pointed out, in answer to the assertion that government ownership of railroads would put an end to the annual deficit in the Postal Department, the fact that whatever decrease there should be in cost of carrying the mails would diminish the earnings of the railroads to just that extent—that, in other words, the deficit would be taken from the Postal Department and charged up against the operating expense of the railroads.

A self-evident proposition, one would say. However, the sapient Stockton Mail undertakes to dispute it. With a perspicacity only equaled by its complacent condescension, the Mail says the logic of this is "apparently good, but betrays such ignorance of the real point at issue that one must conclude it was written by THE TRIBUNE'S office boy."

The one who draws this conclusion is probably the escaped crank who writes the Mail's public ownership editorials. The Stockton paper explains its conclusion in this luminous paragraph:

"The writer of the sentences quoted seemed not to know that the complaint has been frequently made that the railroad companies charge exorbitant prices for carrying the mails. Therefore if the government should own the railroads and charge fair prices for this service there should be no deficit in either the railroad or the Postal Department. It is asserted by those who have studied the subject carefully that if the government paid no more in proportion for the carrying of mail than the express companies pay for the transportation of express matter, there would be ample revenue to pay the expenses of the Postal Department. If the government owned the railroads it would work no hardship on either the tax-payers or the patrons of the roads if fair prices were reckoned for the carrying of the mails."

Yet the fact remains that the revenue of the railroads would be diminished in precisely the amount of the deduction from the sum now paid for carrying the mails, whether the charges be excessive or reasonable. If we understand our Stockton contemporary aright, it means that the cost of operating the roads under government ownership would be so reduced that the mails could be carried profitably at less cost than under the present system.

That is an assumption that will bear examination. It is not to be presumed that the railroads are to be confiscated. Ergo, the government must buy them. Unless there is a deficit to be made good from the proceeds of public taxation, the railroads must be made to pay the expense of operation, interest on the cost of purchase and the cost of keeping the roadbeds and rolling stock in good order. Should the government take over the railroads, it would be immediately beset by three forces, pulling in as many different directions, all striving to diminish the earning power of the roads. Let us enumerate them:

The farmers and shippers generally would demand lower rates and increased service. The labor unions would demand increased pay and shorter hours for railway employees. The politicians would insist upon all public officials, including their wives, children, dogs and poor relations riding free, and the railroads would be encumbered with a vast increase of government freight which would have to be carried for nothing or, at best, nominal rates.

Added to all this, there would be a demand all over the country for new lines, fine station buildings, etc., that the railway companies will not erect now because it would be a losing investment to do so. These are the things, we say, that destroy all probability in the Stockton Mail's assumption. The editor of that paper may call those who are less assuming than he ignorant, but knowledge is not measured by his yardstick nor can the primary deductions of logic be overthrown by assumptions borrowed from the hayfield and the tanyard, and denoting an intelligence better acquainted with the plow handle and carrycomb than the law of economics. Now, let our Stockton neighbor elevate his bristles and grunt again.

Something is going on in Hungary that is not unlikely to create a convulsion and mayhap alter the political map of Europe. The Emperor of Austria has undertaken to assert his dogma that constitutional government in Hungary exists only with his consent and by his toleration, to be terminated at his pleasure. He has accordingly decided to put the Hungarian parliament out of business by having the police clear the chambers and prevent further sessions being held. He will hardly stay the rising tide of democracy in his empire by such autocratic expedients. In Hungary he has national as well as democratic sentiment to deal with, a combination that made his throne shake in 1848. Then the throne of the Hapsburgs was propped up by Russian bayonets, but even with that support Francis Joseph decided that he could only make his empire secure by granting constitutional government and autonomy to Hungary. He cannot now take away the privilege wrung from the crown as a concession to expediency, but in trying to do so he may wreck his throne and split his empire in twain.

How slipshod is the modern knowledge of American history is aptly illustrated by a recent article in a popular New York weekly purporting to give a list of the most distinguished governors of the Empire State. The article made no mention of De Witt Clinton, Daniel D. Tompkins, Silas Wright, William L. Marcy, Horatio Seymour, Grover Cleveland and Samuel J. Tilden. What would New York's pantheon be with these names left out?

How familiarity does breed contempt! A newspaper headline reads, "Alice and Nick on the wing."

"Organize and do things," advises the Stockton Independent. Amen say we, provided you do not do your neighbor Stand in with your neighbor to do the other fellow.

Abuse a Bourbon's Reason.

The Los Angeles Herald says the reasons why a Democratic Governor should be elected in California this year are as plentiful as blackberries in the Ozark mountains, and then, to substantiate the assertion, it proceeds to print a list of abusive and ridiculously false charges against the Republican party of this State. That sort of thing may be good politics and good journalism in Missouri, but it is neither one nor the other in California. We are prepared to admit that the editor of the Herald knows more about the Ozark mountains than we do, and are willing to concede that he knows more about picking blackberries in Missouri than he does about California politics, but he is woefully mistaken if he thinks he can make intelligent people believe the Republican party is something different in its organization for campaign action than it shows itself to be by the record its members make in public office. The Herald attacks the party organization with abusive epithets, but makes no attempt whatever to show that the State administration is not upright, capable, patriotic and progressive. Neither does it attempt to discredit the National administration. By their fruits ye shall know them. The Republican party will stand or fall in public estimation by the record made by the State and National administrations, and not by what some wild ass from Missouri may say about the party organization.

The Coming of Dr. Hyde.

The coming of Dr. Douglas Hyde, the acknowledged leader of the Celtic revival, has stirred the people of Irish blood in America as they have not been stirred since the Land League was organized under the leadership of Parnell. Dr. Hyde, like Parnell, Emmett, Biggar, Grattan, Phillips, John Mitchell, Curran and a host of other Irish patriots, is a Protestant. Like Oliver Goldsmith, he is the son of a clergyman, and he appears to be no more Irish in descent than the author of "The Deserted Village" was, for his name is distinctly Saxon, as is that of William Butler Yeats.

He is also an alumnus of Trinity College, Dublin, which is as anti-Irish as the memory of Cromwell. Dr. Hyde hails from Roscommon, the very center of Ireland, his geographical location being expressive of his declared sentiment that the Celtic revival is neither Catholic nor Protestant.

Notwithstanding his English lineage and his Protestant faith, Dr. Hyde is as ardent a champion of an Irish Ireland as can be found. He wants to see the Emerald Isle not only free and prosperous but governed by an Irish people, thoroughly Irish in thought, feeling and sentiment, versed in the ancient literature and traditions of their race, and proud of their history, their language and their blood. He is striving to bring this about by touching the heart-strings of the Irish people, playing upon sentiment and race pride.

That he has accomplished wonders none can deny. He has set the whole Irish nation, old and young, to studying their ancient tongue and reading in the native vernacular the historical records and romantic literature of their race. He has also aroused a feeling of blood kinship among other branches of the Gael, the Manx, the Cymry of Wales, the Highlanders of Scotland and the Bretons and Gascons of France.

No ordinary man could thus arouse and stimulate the enthusiasm of a whole people, and none but a scholar in love with his task could kindle again in living interest the embers of a dying speech, revive in memory the glories of a forgotten literature, and breathe new vitality into the fragments of a broken and perishing nationality.

For all of his English patronymic we suspect Dr. Hyde of being largely Celt in blood, as he undoubtedly is in sentiment and temperament. His glowing imagination, his warm enthusiasm, and his intense sympathy with poetic ideals, all peculiarly Celtic traits, indicate that the graft has become completely blended with the native stock. It is more than ever indicated by the defiance he hurls at Old Trinity, the scholastic section of the English garrison, which is famous for its partiality for ancient Greek and its hatred for Gaelic.

The greatest Greek scholar in Europe—a Trinity man, by the way—said there was nothing in the Celtic literature of Ireland worth studying and translating, but Dr. Hyde, another son of Trinity, has proved to the contrary, and has caused the streets of Dublin to be placarded with their names in the Gaelic. Which shows that proficiency in Greek does not make even an eminent scholar an authority on Gaelic!

Dr. Hyde is soon to lecture in Oakland, however, and we advise those who desire to learn something of one of the most remarkable movements in modern times to go and hear him. He has accomplished the seemingly impossible, and by reviving the passionate hope of a stricken and oppressed people has opened through scholastic research a new field of interest for the antiquarian and the literary artist. He has brushed the dust of centuries away and caused the light to shine again on a forgotten chapter of the world's history, has given back to the children of the Gaels the story of their race and the renown of their fathers.

PROGRESS.

Triumphant Art! Proudly we see today
Thy colored pictures in the magazines;
Perfervid pigments vividly portray
The atmosphere of realistic scenes.

Here note a maid, with rich plum-colored check,
Plucking red-flannel roses from a tree;
Green and vermillion clouds with feeling reek,
And pale-pink ships float in an ochre sea.

Again, behold in violet evening dress
A youth beneath an orange chandelier;
His light-green face aglow with happiness,
He murmurs in his love's magenta ear.

What matter, then, the lithographic slips
Which show a bright-green blossom scarlet-leaved,
Or crimson teeth laughing 'twixt pure white lips,
Since color-process pictures we've achieved?

They say that money cannot buy
These things for me, alas! But I—

Well—I don't know!

What bought the most delightful wife?
A man could hope to win?

What buys her every wish in life?

The clothes she dazzles in?

And if her heart beats not for me,
And I am not adored, you see,

Well—I don't know!

And heaven? O, of course, I don't

Expect to get in free;

But if the Lord meant what He said

The tithe I'll give before I die

Will slip me through the needle's eye.

Or, I don't know.

For happiness? Well, money bought

It bought this chair in which I lol.

It bought this private car;

It bought this cognac—and, I guess,

If all this is not happiness,

Well—I don't know!

MANY AFFAIRS IN THE SMART SET SKATING CLUB MEETS

Miss Hilma A. Buttler contributed several pleasing recitations to the program last Saturday evening at Masonic Temple. The occasion was the reception and banquet given by the Past Masters' Association of California F. and A. M., to the Past Matrons and Patrons' Association, A. E. S.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Frank Routhwaite and Mrs. Guy Lillencrantz are spending a few weeks at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Thomas Carmell is recovering at Fabiola after a severe illness.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens will spend about a fortnight in New York.

FIRST DANCE.

The first annual dance given by the Seminoles of Oakland was held at Esters' Hall, Thursday evening, February 15, and was an enjoyable affair. Those who had received the coveted invitations were enthusiasts in their praise at the success of the evening. The affair was managed by Mr. Hoge, floor manager, with Mr. Bauer and Mr. Cottle as assistants.

Those who served on the reception committee were Mr. Johnson as chairman, with Messrs. Kurtz, Larsen, Mau, Spencer, Piercy and Bistropius as assistants.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. George C. Boardman entertained yesterday at an elaborate bridge party at her home across the bay. The players included Mrs. Breeze, Mrs. Henry William Poett, Mrs. Henry Klersted, Mrs. Frederick Lake, Mrs. Currey, Mrs. Chauncey Boardman, Mrs. Samuel Boardman, Mrs. Charles Josselyn, Mrs. Doughtery, Mrs. Horace Davis, Mrs. Charles P. SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss A. Toomey was tendered a surprise party Saturday evening at her home, 673 Twenty-fourth street. The home had been decorated with ferns and greens, with large streamers of gold and red. Dancing and games were indulged in till a late hour, when supper was served. Among the guests were the following: Miss Toomey, Miss Eagan, Miss Hogan, Miss Simmons, Misses Crowley, Toomey, Schroeder, Anderson, Willis Eagan, Jepson, Hintze, Dr. Muntze of Portland, Werner and others. At a late hour the guests departed, after having had a delightful time.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. A. E. Waters was hostess recently at an enjoyable birthday party for her daughter, Miss Angela Waters. Among the guests were Miss Alice Shadie, Miss Edna Joste, Miss Elizabeth Yates, Miss Grace Knapp, Miss Eloise Waters, Miss Velma Waters, Miss Daisy Tubman, Messrs. August Waters, A. Lunardi, of San Francisco, and several others.

THEATER PARTY.

Mrs. George Uhl of San Francisco will entertain next Saturday at a luncheon and theater party for three charming little guests of honor, Miss Dorothy Egbert, Miss Dorothy Theler and Miss Dorothy Erwin.

A dozen young girls will enjoy the afternoon with this entertaining hostess.

PEASANT PARTY.

A very delightful party was given at the home of Miss Regina Neuno in Piedmont in honor of her cousin, Miss Mae Haley, who has just returned from Manila after an absence of two years, being engaged as a teacher in one of the government schools. During the evening musical and literary numbers were given. Otto Snider sang, and Miss M. Ferry and E. Schofield rendered the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." W. Hinkie sang a ballad, Lea J. McCarthy rendered a comic recitation. The evening closed with a well rendered one-act farce, entitled the "Stubborn Boy." The cast included T. Egan, H. Carroll, B. Eedes, Alfred Holland, Mark Rogers and Julius Ruebelmann. Julius Ruebelmann played the leading part. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Feeney and daughter, Colonel McCoy, B. McCormick, P. Coyle, William Melody, J. Blinn, M. O'Brien, A. Tetza, Orval Sulder, M. Filipponi, M. Byrnes, A. Finan. Among the young lady guests were Miss Nation, Miss McCue, Miss K. Azevedo, Mrs. Jamboone, Miss E. Buckle, Miss J. Coulthers.

WEDDING CARDS.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Elsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corbett Thompson, and Horatio Ward Stebbins, February 14, at Santa Barbara. They will be at home Wednesdays in April at the "Balmoral," 1135 Masonic avenue, San Francisco.

BRIDGE PARTIES.

Mrs. H. M. A. Miller entertained at bridge today. Mrs. Frederick William Henshaw's apartments at the Marie Antoinette are also the scene of a bridge gathering. A third bridge party is given by Mrs. Henry Davis. She has invited several experts.

IN EUROPE.

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst and her niece, Mrs. Joseph Marshall Flint, formerly Miss Anne Apperson, are spending the latter part of the winter in Sicily. Dr. Flint is studying in Vienna.

PAPYRUS CLUB.

The Papyrus Club will hold an interesting program tomorrow in celebration of Washington's Birthday. Those who will participate include Rev. E. R. Dille, Jenne Morrow Long, Mrs. John Jacob Apple, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Miss Florence E. Darby and Frank Thompson.

AT A RECEPTION.

Mrs. C. W. Kinsey will receive tonight at her home in Twenty-fifth street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Dozier, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Dozier was Miss Elizabeth Kinsey. There will be about seventy-five guests. The receiving party will include Mr. and Mrs. Seth Talcott, Miss Ida Larkey and Miss Elizabeth Scupham. In the dining-room the young girls in charge will include Miss Hazel Burpee, Miss Ruth Westall, Miss Isabel Scupham and Miss Madina Dozier.

SONG RECITAL.

Mrs. Charles Camm, who was Miss Dorothy Goodsell, has returned from an absence of several months in New York, where she studied under such musical masters as George Henschel, Isidore Luckstone and Louise von Wellitsch. Her voice shows the excellent results of the opportunities given it. Mrs. Camm will give a song recital March 1, which will be her first public singing since her marriage.

TWO WEDDINGS.

The wedding of Miss Mary Jarvis and Arthur L. Fisk will be solemnized this evening at half past eight o'clock at the home of the bride in East Oakland. The color scheme chosen for this pretty wedding will be pink and white and fruit blossoms will be an effective decoration.

The Rev. Edward F. Brown will officiate and the ceremony will be witnessed by half a hundred relatives and intimate friends.

The bride will be attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Ezra Decoto and Miss Elizabeth Jarvis and her brother, Dr. C. S. Jarvis will act as best man. This evening Miss Clare Walton will become the bride of Lester Van de Marck at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Walton. Miss Marguerite Gober and Frank von Breckenfeld will also be married this evening and a fourth wedding of interest is that of Miss Lillian Eugenia Schmidt and Lawrence Edward Innes to be solemnized this evening.

ELABORATE TEA.

Miss Violet Albright entertained this afternoon at a very pretty tea given at her Fruitvale home. The honored guests were Miss Cook and Miss Rhoda O'Farrell. The receiving party included Miss TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 21.—Representative and Mrs. Longworth arrived here at 10:35 o'clock last night on the private car Elysian and proceeded directly to Port Tampa, there boarding the steamship Mascotte for Havana to spend part of their honeymoon in Cuba. The steamship sailed for Cuba at 2 a.m.

At the city station last night a large crowd gathered and Cuban Consul F. F. Mendoza presented a magnificent floral design to Mrs. Longworth, emblematic of the friendship of Cuba for herself and her father, President Roosevelt.

Mrs. Longworth received the gift with smiles. At Tampa bay station the hotel orchestra gave the couple a serenade and the train was boarded by E. W. Morgan, the United States Minister to Cuba, who goes to Havana to assume his duties at his new post, and by President J. M. Barr and Vice President E. F. Cost of the Seaboard Air Line, who also are en route to Cuba.

"WILLIE" MIZNER SAYS HIS WIFE IS MORE PROFITABLE THAN GOLD MINE

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—William Eddy, deputy marshal at Nome, returned from Chicago yesterday.

At the Arlington Hotel he said he met "Billy" Mizner, who recently married Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes. Billy had with him an English valet and was spending money like a prince. He declared to Eddy:

"You talk about your Alaska pay streaks and about pulling down so much per pan, but, Eddy, honest, I'm on a d-n sight bigger pay streak than Alaska ever saw."

Eddy was with Mizner when he met young Yerkes at the Chicago Athletic Club. Yerkes called "Billy" a seeker after cheap advertising, and for a time trouble was threatened.

Mizner said the English valet was a present from his wife, and was used to answer scented notes and such like.

DENVER, Feb. 21.—Wilson Mizner, who married Mrs. Chas. T. Yerkes, widow of the late traction magnate, is rushing toward Denver as fast as railroads can carry him. According to a dispatch received by a friend, Mizner will reach here by tonight. The same dispatch carries with it the information that Edith Crater, the Denver actress and society girl whom Mizner is reported to have jilted in order to marry Mrs. Yerkes, is also headed toward Denver from the metropolis.

George E. Crater, father of the young lady, said he expected his daughter soon. It is said here that Mizner is coming to Denver will say that there has been no decrease in their value. Don't ask me about Chicago traction securities; that is a story too long to tell at this time."

On La Salle street it was said that the $15,000,000 valuation put on the estate was far in excess of its real value. When Mr. Yerkes left Chicago he took along about $5,000,000. What he left there was of little value.

Mr. Owsley and Clarence Knight, attorneys for the estate, held a long conference yesterday and sent many telegrams. It is said that Mrs. Mizner is being urged to remain in New York and not come West and stir up interest in her affairs here.

DOG WITH HIGHBALL TASTE LINES UP WITH MEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The usual group of politicians and transient guests, swelled by a sudden rush of between-the-act "thrills" from the theater, were ranged along the bar of the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night. Before them stood a long row of "balls"—high end low, says the World.

A short man in a fur-lined coat wandered up to the brass rail. He crowded close to the man on his left as if to make room for another on his right.

Suddenly, in the vacant place, reared a massive Great Dane dog, towering a full foot above his master's head. The dog rested his front feet against the rail and looked nonchalantly up and down the bar.

"A little rye for mine," said the Great Dane.

"Shake hands with the barkeep, Dan," suggested the man. "Maybe he can spare you a drop."

A black paw was promptly stretched half way across the bar. It was grasped in all cordiality from the other side.

"We—we don't serve dogs in glasses," exclaimed the astonished bartender.

"Never mind, Dan isn't proud. He'll take a drop or so right off the hogany," replied the man in fur. Then to the dog—"Lookin' at you!"

A red tongue licked up the straw drops.

"Ah-h-i," said the man. "That helped."

"Wough! Wough!" the dog answered.

The crowd—"Well, wouldn't that freeze you?"

WOMAN SAILS 3000 MILES TO DIG UP DREAM TREASURES

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Firmly believing that her dreams, in which she constantly saw visions of her father burying a chest in the garden of her childhood home in France, would come true, Mme. Marguerite Calise, a dressmaker of Pittsburgh, sailed yesterday on the French liner, La Touraine, to learn the facts.

Mme. Calise declared yesterday that her father, who died on December 4, 1904, was considered of a somewhat miserly disposition, and that up to the time of his death, was supposed to have hoarded a considerable fortune.

As no money could be found after his death, Mme. Calise thought a great deal about possible gold and bonds.

"I am not superstitious," she said, "but when the same dream came to me so vividly three nights in succession I began to believe the vision an actual manifestation of spiritual telepathy."

"I was so agitated that I became ill. After I could stand the suspense no longer decided to return to my old home in St. Omer, Department of Oise. I am sure that I can go to the exact spot where my father's treasure is buried."

"My first dream came on the night of December 4, the anniversary of my father's death. It seemed that I was looking out of the window of my room at home. Father apparently left the house carrying a shovel and lantern. He went to an old tree in the garden and dug a hole. Then he came back to the house and reappeared with a heavy chest, which he buried. Not until the next night, when I had exactly the same dream, was I much impressed."

"The third night I again dreamed identically the same thing. I went to a clairvoyant, who told me that the dream was a communication with my father's spirit."

"For weeks I remained in a hospital suffering from nervous prostration. When I recovered I at once decided to go back to France to hunt for the treasure."

KID BELL IS ST. MARY'S PHOENIX TEAM OF THIS YEAR UPHOLDS REPUTATION FOR CLEVERNESS

THE FIGHTING GAME.
 (By Kelly, the Ringside Poet.)
 ★ The BELL has rung, the fight is on.
 ★ The seconds all pass up "bully con":
 ★ Both men well trained, both strong and able.
 ★ A union fight and union LABEL.
 ★ The HALL is filled, excitement tense:
 ★ The fighters stand, each on defense;
 ★ Too soon to CROWD—each has a chance—
 ★ They WARD off blows as 'round they dance.
 ★ There's many more of lesser lights
 ★ Who like to mix with lofts and rights:
 ★ But that's enough, so let 'er go—★ On with the fight and blow for a blow!
 ★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★

The West Oakland Club's quarters were thronged again last evening by lovers of the fighting game anxious to see the return bout between Abe Label and "Kid" Bell and the various other matches scheduled. They saw an excellent show with well-contested bouts.

Kid Bell made good his prediction to turn the tables on Label although the latter claimed that he broke his thumb in the first round. He also complained to Referee George Simpson on several occasions that Bell was hitting him low, although the protest was not allowed.

The fighting was fast and vicious, both boys putting up an excellent contest, despite their supposed injuries. The judges gave Bell the decision after the four rounds of hard fighting and it is not improbable that the boys will be matched again.

Johnnie Crowe knocked out Willie Edwards with a straight right to the jaw in the second round.

The go between Jockey Banister and Kid Francis was a fierce one all the way through. Francis finally knocking his man out in the third round. The Jockey was in poor condition.

J. Hickey, Jr., beat Jack Hayes by a decision. This was a good fight.

Loren Brown was given the decision over James Ward. Ward being unable to continue after receiving a hard punch.

Edgar Robinson won the decision over Tommy Taylor, after four rounds of fighting.

RACE PROVES EASY FOR TOCOLAW

The heavy shower early yesterday afternoon changed the complexion of several races at Oakland.

Matt Hogan, The Reprobate, St. Francis, Dixie Lad, Mr. Farnum and Toclaw proved the winners in the various events. St. Francis and Toclaw were favorites to score, while Matt Hogan and The Reprobate were second choices.

Toclaw looked like a "moral" in the sixth race over the Future course, but 6 to 5 was obtained against the son Bassett. The two horses price due to the likes of Misty Bride. Toclaw broke in front, but Graham soon sent Misty Bride to the head of affairs. The Oregon mare led by a length into the stretch, but Toclaw gradually closed the gap and won handily at the end.

Matt Hogan spread eagle his field in the first race at six and one half furlongs.

Mimo was choice in the second race, but the slushy track just suited The Reprobate. He opened up a big gap the first part, and won by a couple of lengths from Mimo.

The third race proved a gift for St. Francis. He took the lead from Francis on the first turn and won by about half a dozen lengths. Francis, who nosed out Hartman for the place, was 25 to 1 straight which was an unwarranted price.

Orchan carried the coin of the wise division in the fourth race, at one and one eighth miles. He encouraged his backers until the last fifty yards, when Dixie Lad collared and beat him to the wire, displaying conspicuous improvement over his two previous starts. Louie put up a weak finish on Orchan.

Mr. Farnum was sent after the money in the fifth race, and his stable connections made no mistake, as he rolled home in front of Ray. Wrenick, the favorite, was never a contender.

M'CAFFERTY TO BE GIVEN A HEARING

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—The charges preferred against J. J. McCafferty by "Boots" Durnell, with the statement of three veterinarians to the effect that The Huguenot was "doped" in the fifth race Monday, have been presented by Durnell. Judge Hamilton called upon McCafferty for his side of the case. McCafferty stated that he wished to get affidavits from the stable employees to prove that The Huguenot had not been doped. Judge Hamilton announced that, as the charge was such a serious one, he wished to investigate thoroughly with the other judges and that he will not make a ruling in the case until it has been thoroughly investigated. McCafferty is found guilty of "doping" the horse, according to the rule of the Pacific Jockey Club, which controls racing on the Coast, he will be ruled off.

RELIANCE FIGHTS GIVE THE CLUB A GREAT BOOM

The Reliance Club directors and supporters are experiencing a greater feeling of happiness and satisfaction over club affairs than they have known in many a day. The re-introduction of boxing matches has worked the pleasant change. The club apparently has taken a boom that it has not known in a long time and seems to be on the high road to prosperity. Not only in money dropped into its treasury as a result of the first bouts given by the organization, but in a decidedly increased membership has the effect of the plan been felt, and the directors have been correspondingly elated. It is stated that the club cleared in

RELIANCE CLUB LAD HAS FINE CHANCE IN TOURNEY

Henry Jones, a Reliance Club lad who has made something of a name for himself during the past few months as a boxer and for whom many have predicted a brilliant career in that line, has entered the amateur boxing tournament, which the Olympic Club of San Francisco has scheduled for the latter part of next month and hopes to start at Portland, but it is believed he is capable of taking care of himself. He is a clever lad, full of self-possession and coolness in the ring, a hard hitter and quick to take advantage of an opening. He has the earmarks of an excellent ring general and the future should cause his name to become well known one.

Jones fights at about 112 pounds and therefore will have to give away weight to the extent of three pounds or so in the 115 pound class in which he is entered, but he is a sturdy, well-built lad and should be able to make a good showing despite this handicap.

Jones first attracted attention when

KILL VALUABLE HORSE AT ASCOT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—Ebony, the black son of Hamilton, has developed the feature of yesterday's program in a gallant, dashing Chalk, Fredrick and Horner, a pull in 1:39. He was a heavily played favorite at 4 to 6.

Loyal Front, the property of ex-Jockey Van Dusen, was a starter in this event, but, crossing his legs on the first turn, fell, throwing McDaniel heavily. The rider luckily escaped injury and rode the last two races. On examination it was found that the horse had broken his right fore leg, and a humane outlet soon put him out of misery. Recently an offer of $5000 was refused for Loyal Front.

Barnes Schubert was named as the author of the shooting of Ebenezer Hammonburn, colt. Van Loan, carry his colors to easy victory. Three favorites were successful.

RECORD IS A BRILLIANT ONE

The Phoenix team of St. Mary's College for this season promises to be fully as strong as it has shown itself to be in seasons past, which is saying considerable, for the team has vanquished practically everything it has gone against, and its name and fame have spread abroad through all the country hereabouts.

There have been several changes in the make-up of the organization this year, but the strength of the team does not seem to have at all diminished, for the boys have not met a single defeat this season and it would not be at all surprising if they went through the year without losing a game.

Parker Wilson, lar, catcher for San Francisco in the Coast League, has joined the youngsters and the result is a distinct credit to his efforts, as well as to the ability of the players.

The Phoenix are to play the University of California team at Idora Park tomorrow afternoon. If the weather does not interfere, a decidedly interesting game is anticipated. If history follows its celebrated custom and repeats itself, the Blue and Gold is very apt to be trampled in the dust.

The St. Mary's boys have been trying for sometime to keep an engagement with the State College team at San Jose, but the elements have interfered on several occasions until both sides have almost abandoned hope of getting together. No doubt a date will be arranged as soon as the weather appears to be settled.

PIEDMONT'S ON A STRANGE ALLEY

The Piedmonts No. 2 had a club roll on the Jefferson Square alleys last night and rolled very good scores considering that it was the first time any of the team had bowled on these alleys.

Score: Whitney 241 181 178 176-571
Meyer 188 182 182 182-571
Jones 143 171 171 176-560
Davidson 162 147 159 198-675

Totals 619 633 $10,901-3363

Total average per man was 168.

The Piedmonts No. 2 and the Jefferson Square team will bowl the game which was scheduled for tonight next Monday evening, February 26. This is the last game of the Coast tourney.

On Saturday night the Syndicates will bowl the Nonpareils No. 2 on the Syndicate alleys.

The Pabsts will play the Broadways on the Oakland alleys.

The Nonpareils No. 1 will bowl on the Zions No. 1 on the Nonpareil alleys.

High scores, shooting gallery: Dr. Guy Shaw, 69; 73; Duke, 69; Bud LaVoy, 73; 73; 73; R. McDonald, 73.

A man's wife should always be the most especially to her husband, but if she is in the minority, she can use her iron fills, like cannot be for they make her feel like a different person; so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

WILLIAMS' STABLE OUSTED BY BOARD OF STEWARDS

The stewards of the California Jockey Club have ordered the stable of S. M. Williams from the Emeryville track as a result of Monday's race.

The track veterinary surgeon reported that Arragowan won "dead" in the third race on Monday when he ran away several miles and fell in his tracks, after breaking and injuring Jockey E. Walsh, and at a meeting of the board of stewards at the office of the California Jockey Club last night the following decision was reached:

The entries of S. M. Williams will be hereafter refused by the California Jockey Club, and the horses owned by that firm are hereby ordered from the Oakland track.

The stable of S. M. Williams is one of the biggest at Oakland. In the stable are such well known horses as Fireball, Alencor, Reservation, Silver Sue, Good Cheer, Allaric, Bonaventure and some eight or ten others. Dick Williams is the trainer, and is also part owner in the stable with Jack Atkins, the well-known bookmaker.

The stable figured here quite prominently at the beginning of the present meeting, but was shipped to Ascot at the beginning of that meeting. The Williams stable won numerous races at Ascot and the contention that this stable was favored by Brooks was the direct cause of the present scandal which is now agitating the turf at Ascot. The Williams horses were shipped back here about three weeks ago, and the report came from Los Angeles that the stable was under investigation.

Manager James Woodlawn Brooks telegraphed that the standing of the Williams stable was all right, but this was in direct conflict with what Judge Hamilton had stated in the public press.

The Williams stable has not furnished many starters since coming back here. Arragowan has been started a number of times, but he never acted as he did on Monday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Hungary's chess champion, Geza Maroczy, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Amerika from Hamburg. He seeks a match for the world's championship, but is not prepared to discuss details until he has had a personal interview with Dr. Lasker, the world's champion, who, though out West at the present time, is now a resident of this city.

"However, the old barrel had a hole in it, and they all lost. I know they will be around me to give me the 'glad hand,' but I don't want anything to do with these so-called 'friends' of mine. They can go and get that Clyde Burnham they've been talking about."

They said: "After 'Labe' beats Bell we will send down to Los Angeles and get Clyde Burnham to come up here and fight 'Label' again and get 'Denver Ed' Martin to train him."

Dear Doctor -

I owe you so much - for you saved my Mama's life - she was angel sick - the Doctor came and Papa cried - so did I - The Doctor could not help her - but Aunt Emma - She told Mama to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription - and so she got well in enough time.

I thank you very much

To Dr R V Pierce.

End Decker.

Many mothers of families in the United States have reason to be grateful to the person who recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a medicine specially prescribed for diseases of womankind. It does not cure eczema, catarrh in all its forms nor heart disease, for it is put up for the single purpose of curing diseases peculiar to women. It has a reputation of over a third of a century of cures and has sold more largely on this continent than any other medicine for women. Another point in its favor - it does not contain a single drop of alcohol or narcotic habit forming drugs. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. An alcoholic compound for women is something no woman should take and yet "Favorite Prescription" is the only tonic and nerve builder up for sale through druggists especially for women. Its weaknesses do not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Women's weakness will always bring nervous irritability and a nervous condition for which alcohol is the worst thing in the world. What a woman thus afflicted needs is a vegetable tonic and invigorating nerve like Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription which will build up her debilitate system and bring about a healthy tone. It cures the drunks and weaklings of women as also displacements, as prolapse, anteversion, retroversion, irregular menstruation, and kindred ailments.

If you want to know what advice the United States mail will bring you the best medical advice for only the cost of writing material and stamps.

Many women owe their present good health to the fact that they consulted Dr. Pierce by letter, giving him all possible information about their condition, symptoms etc., and received in return good medical advice which cost them nothing. This is why we advise you to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Pierce by no means confines himself to prescribing his well known proprietary medicines. He tells you the most common sense way what to do. Dr. R. V. Pierce Buffalo, N.Y.

TRACE ROBBERS FOUL PLAN KILLS BY PACKAGE BRAKEMAN

POLICE ARREST MEN BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN IN DEADLY AFFAIR

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN RESULTS IN CRUSHING RAILROADER

NEW YORK Feb 21 - Two men were arrested in this city last night on suspicion of having been connected with the robbery of a post office at Fairfield, Vt., the night of October 20 last when one of the robbers was shot dead and was left on the scene by his comrades. The robbers gave their names as James Graham a cook living in Brooklyn and John Burger a salesman of Manhattan. The police and postoffice inspectors ascertained they traced the men by a small express package lying in a town near Litchfield ever since the night of the robbery. In their effort to find the money and the several hundred dollars worth of stamps stolen the inspectors traced the package to the upstate office of the American Express Company here. The police were notified. Yesterday it is alleged the two men under arrest failed to pay the package. They had no right to do so. They will be taken before United States Commissioner Sneed today.

DRY DOCK ADRIFF

NEW YORK Feb 21 - According to a dispatch to the Herald from Las Palmas Canary Islands the drydock Dewey broke adrift three times and was picked up with difficulty by the fleet that was too impeded. This is reported the crew was afloat by the tug Potomac which eventually reached Las Palmas. The fleet and its dock are now 480 miles west of the Canaries the dispatch says and everything is going well.

SCROFULA AN AWFUL INHERITANCE

While it is true that Scrofula may be acquired under certain conditions, it is usually inherited. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint of any character, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones poor digestion weak eyes, Catarrh, emaciated bodies and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. The blood has been diseased from birth, and being in this condition cannot properly nourish the body and Scrofula is the result. A hereditary disease like this can only be treated by a constitutional remedy and nothing equals S.S.S. as a cure for it. It cleanses and strengthens the deteriorated blood, drives out all scrofulous and tubercular deposits, and there is a gradual return to health. S.S.S. supplies to the anaemic, lifeless blood the properties necessary to build back to strong, robust health, and does this gently and so thoroughly that no signs of the disease are ever seen in after life. Being purely vegetable S.S.S. is the best remedy for Scrofula, its harmless but healing ingredients enter into the circulation and replace weak blood faces with vigorous strength glowing with health. MARKET REPORTS

OPERATE 32 TIMES Henry Clews' Letter on Knife Used on Man's Leg Condition of Various Stock Affairs.

(Tribune's Correspondence)

NEW YORK Feb 17 - The lively feeling in the stock market which began about a month ago is daily becoming more pronounced and rapidly developing into a more decided downward tendency. Stocks have been steadily sold by insiders on all good news this being particularly noticeable since announcement of the copper merger and the increase in Union Pacific dividend. Following both of these events the market became weak and dull demonstrating that as usual their good effect had been fully discounted in advance. The truth is it is impossible to find a new bull argument which has not already been overdiscounted and the conviction grows that the boom is over for the present at least. Investors, will not buy stocks at present figures and the shrewd class of large holders have been steadily emptying their strong boxes into the laps of big speculators and plunger who have been the chief buyers and supporters of the market at recent actions values and who must now carry the load as best they can. For some time to come the drift of the market will be back to normal conditions. This is as it should be.

Among the most adverse features is the monetary situation. There is plenty of money available for really good investments at reasonable prices as is demonstrated by the freedom with which capital is flowing into real estate and other forms of new enterprise. At the same time the bank reserves at New York are lower than for twenty years at this time and that at a time when they ought to be strengthening to meet the demands incidental to April 1. It need cause no surprise if we see some uncomfortable moments in the money market before the next strike makes itself evident. Very important dividends are just now being made upon the money market by the enormous issues of new bonds hence the advance of time money to a 3% per cent basis. Since the first of the year about $400,000,000 of new issues have been announced as coming on the market now or in the early future. These include $700,000 of Southern Railway $100,000,000 of American Telephone & Telegraph $70,000,000 of the Pennsylvania Company $35,000,000 Lake Shore $10,000,000 Atlantic Coast Line bonds $10,000,000 New York City municipal bonds and several other important items.

ATTRACTION PRICES

There is no doubt that a large portion of the bonds can be successfully placed provided the prices are made sufficiently attractive but close money and enormous issues of new securities are bringing into the organization and the commanding of the two is certain to cause a weaker market. The low price realized on the last New York City 4 per cents was a disappointment and must be attributed to the municipal ownership craze and the congested condition of the bond market. The monetary situation has been thinned out by gold exports but aside from special shipments to Argentina and Japan former rates at this time are likely to postpone such shipments especially as foreign bankers are lending in this market with considerable freedom and our large exports of domestic products are an important factor in our favor.

It is also worth noting that our new bond issues are being taken more freely at odd intervals which tends to check gold exports and at the same time lessens concentration of securities in the local market. It now looks as if no gold would be shipped to Europe this spring unless a disturbance of some sort occurs in the foreign money markets which is not foreseen. The contemplated expansion of currency in France which it was thought would cause some demand upon our gold supply is a matter that can easily be deferred until a more convenient period when rates here are comparatively easy.

Paris is already leaning quite freely in this market and this shows that no early markets are anticipated from that quarter.

INVESTIGATING FEVER

Another factor which tends to disconcert bond operators is the investigating fever which has taken deep hold of various legislative assemblies. Within the bounds of reason there is good in this awakening of the legislative conscience and turning on the light and if conducted with due regard to private rights such investigations can do no harm. The legislative probe however may easily be injuriously used in sensitive situations some of the threatened investigations seeking to reveal matters in which the public has no concern and which would injuriously affect corporate credit ought to be strenuously discouraged. It is quite possible to create serious financial trouble if this fever for wanting to know is allowed to run riot and not properly restrained. This is a feature in the stock market which has been rather serious at one time or another.

Knife Used on Man's Leg on Many Occasions in 14 Years.

NEW YORK, Feb 21 - Charles Rorahn submitted in the German Hospital at Newark N.J. yesterday to the thirty-second operation that has been performed on one of his legs within fourteen years. The thirty-one preceding operations had taken away almost all of his leg and the surgeon found only a stump yesterday. Besides losing his leg the operations have cost Rorahn four years time in the hospitals. Most of the operations have been at St. Rorahn's eagerness to leave the hospital in which they were performed, affording no time for them to heal properly.

Rorahn hurt his foot in an elevator fourteen years ago. The first operation cost him only a part of his foot. The surgeon says he will be fully cured in a month.

JEWELER GIVES BURGLARS FIGHT

NEW YORK Feb 21 - Two men entered the store of Israel Rauth a jeweler on Eighth avenue last night and pointing a revolver at his head with the injunction to keep quiet took out a tray of diamond earnings valued at several hundred dollars and backed out of the store. When the men had left Rauth took his own revolver from a drawer and started in pursuit. He fired at the fleeing men who turned and began to return his fire. Rauth then ran back to his store. On his way he found two earrings and the empty tray on the sidewalk. The men soon disappeared.

FUNDS FOR NEW CHURCH BUILDING

The Dimond M. E. Church is to give a chicken pie dinner tomorrow afternoon in Upper Fruitvale Hall in honor of Washington's Birthday and also for the purpose of adding to the fund for a new church building now being raised. Ice cream among other good things is to be served.

The dinner is to be ready from 5 to 8 p.m. for the hungry folks who are expected to be on hand especially if they should happen to sniff the odors when passing.

of this protection has been less felt than would ordinarily be the case.

SATISFACTORY ELEMENT

A very satisfactory element in the situation is continued large exports of domestic products. The total value for the month of January of breadstuffs provisions, cotton and mineral oils which constitute about 97 per cent of our exports was $96,000,000 compared with $86,000,000 the same month last year.

There is an increase of $21,000,000 or nearly 30 per cent the increase being chiefly in breadstuffs which were 50 per cent larger than a year ago. The shipments of provisions were about 40 per cent larger than a year ago. These large movements were undoubtedly stimulated by the prospects of a retaliatory tariff in Germany against the United States but there is excellent reason for believing that no such action will be taken by Germany since the governments of both countries realize the futility and folly of precipitating a tariff war.

For the present we do not hesitate to advise selling stocks when the market is strong and buying on pronounced reactions which are sure to be more frequent and attractive.

At one time or another serious concern regarding the standing of the great life insurance companies which proved entirely unfounded. Investigation may equally injure other financial institutions if conducted without regard to consequences for credit is the most sensitive part of our commercial machinery and must be guarded from all foolish thoughtless attack.

The labor situation causes some uneasiness since it is feared that trouble in the coal trade may revive agitation elsewhere. There are indications however that wiser counsels will prevail between the coal operators and the mine operators which will defuse any repetition of former difficulties.

General business is very large in volume in spite of some decline in value due to the development of new enterprises is keeping unusually active all forms of constructive work. How much further the expansion in the nation's plant will continue before production has overtaken consumption no one can forecast but signs of over production are already showing themselves in the copper industry where prices are receding and in other departments of industry there are signs of a climax having been reached.

Nevertheless trade activity is general and any slight recession in prices would quickly revive a temporary cessation in trade. Our iron production is still running at high record levels and our demand for iron products is still high.

Business is reported for nearly all classes of iron products. There is nothing encouraging in the crop outlook although the light fall of snow in the interior caused some doubt regarding winter wheat. The season however has been exceptionally mild so the absence

SENIORS ARRANGE FOR BIG WEEK OF EVENTS

Chairman of the 1906 Extravaganza Committee Tells of Competition for Class Play.

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—Preparations for the 1906 class day were set on foot yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the seniors held in California Hall. Arrangements were made to levy an assessment on all the members of the class and the date for closing of the extravaganza competition was set.

Acting on the report of Treasurer W. W. Henry it was decided to have each member of the class pay $5 for the expenses of commencement week. Henry was authorized to appoint collectors and proceed with the work at once.

George Jones, chairman of the extravaganza committee, has announced that the competition for the class play will close March 15. Until March 15, all members of the committee who are writing plays will be excused from serving.

A committee composed of R. J. Arlett, Vance McClymonds, A. S. Moody and Jackson Gregory, was appointed to request President Wheeler to re-open the senior headquarters.

ANNEXATION TALK IS HEARD

TRUSTEES LISTEN TO ENGINEER DISCUSS THE CLAREMONT DISTRICT.

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—The proposed annexation of Claremont to Berkeley was considered by the Trustees last night, and also the district called Ocean View, north of town. Engineer McClure presented an informal report. He said that he believed that the line bringing in the district to be annexed should not go farther south than Alcatraz avenue, because the topography of the land south of Alcatraz would necessitate sewerage into Oakland at heart.

The whole question was informally discussed, and the Town Engineer was directed to go ahead with his investigations and present a complete report to the Trustees.

JOHN PANN HAS PASSED AWAY

DEATH OCCURS TO ONE OF HAYWARD'S OLDEST CITIZENS.

HAYWARD, Feb. 21.—John Pann, Hayward's oldest and in many ways foremost Portuguese citizen, who has been sick for some time, died Monday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alex Rose, who had been his caretaker during his last illness. Sometime ago he had two bad falls which affected his kidneys, and eventually in his death from dropsy. For ten or twelve hours before his passing he had been unable to speak. His passing was peaceful.

Mr. Pann was born in the Azores, and was early engaged in mining, but it is not known how old he was. After following mining in Nevada and California until about 1860, he came to East Oakland and started a chophouse and restaurant, later coming to Hayward, where he started and for over forty years conducted the Azores Hotel.

He was a member of the A. O. U. W. at Hayward for more than twenty years, it is believed, and was a charter member at San Leandro of the U. P. E. C., the Portuguese beneficiary order. He was one of the earliest members of the Hayward fire department, and always a prominent member, holding the chiefship longer than any other man ever elected to it and being foreman for years afterward.

He had been a widower for some years. Two sons, Gus and Bill, are dead. The remaining children are Mamie, Mrs. F. W. Straub, Adeline, Mrs. Alex Rose, Joe and John Jr. (Jack), part of whom reside at Elmhurst, and the remainder at Hayward.

Mr. Pann is supposed to have worth some $60,000 previous to his sickness. When he saw that his illness was likely to prove fatal, he made over the hotel to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rose.

The funeral will be at 10 a. m. at Hayward Catholic Church, the cortège leaving the home at Elmhurst at 9 a. m.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

About fifty boxes each of rhubarb and asparagus have already been shipped from Hayward this season, mostly to the larger bay cities. The asparagus has been mostly from the Meek ranch, and the rhubarb from a number of producers.

IN BLOOM.

Now the apricot trees are rapidly breaking into bloom all along the bay shore.

GREEK THEATER MEETING

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY IS TO BE CELEBRATED AT UNIVERSITY.

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—The public is invited to attend the mass meeting to be held by the students of the University, in recognition of the movement towards International Arbitration, on Washington's birthday, Thursday, February 22, at 10 o'clock in the Greek Theater. Dean Hodges, of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., will open the meeting.

Mr. Hodges is an author of national reputation and a speaker of unusual brilliancy. Professor Bernard Moses, of the department of political economy, of the University of California, will also deliver an address. Farham P. Griffiths of the students' congress and N. E. Harrison of the students' senate, the two debating societies of the University, will represent the student body.

After the addresses there will be a patriotic concert by the University band, under the leadership of S. F. Long Jr. This is one of the best student bands in the West, and preparations have been made to make this concert especially pleasing. In case of rain the meeting will be held in Harmon Gymnasium.

The delegates will return to San Francisco in time to attend a dinner at the Bohemian Club in their honor. The morning of Saturday, March 17, will be devoted to the closing business session.

BIDS RECEIVED FOR WORK

MELROSE TRUSTEES HAVE BASIS FOR IMPROVEMENT PLANNED.

FRUITVALE, Feb. 21.—A meeting of the trustees of Melrose Grammar School district will be called in a few days, to consider bids for bituminizing and concreting the basement rooms of the Melrose schoolhouse, so that they can be used for official and other meetings.

Bids have been received from four firms, at a price per square foot: From the Ransome Construction Company at 13 cents per square foot; W. N. Whitmore, Fruitvale, 14 cents; Contractor Gray, Oakland, 15 cents; and another Oakland firm, 16 cents.

The improvement is expected to cost about $600, and the Ransome Company also agree, should they be declared the successful bidders, to wait for the district until July for part of their pay.

SANITARY NEWS.

The Melrose Sanitary Board, at its meeting Monday evening, arrived at the conclusion that, in view of the date of the sending of the additional affidavits by the board, the Chicago bondsmen should be given more time.

There is becoming doubt in the minds of members of the board as to whether, if they got the entire $30,000 for the bonds, it would be sufficient now, to sewer the whole district since the price of the pipe to be used has lately gone up some; but County Surveyor Prather, who was present, and surveyed out the addition and made a careful calculation of sewer requirements on the basis of latest price of pipe, told the board that he thought the $30,000 would be amply sufficient, and that trench digging should not begin until May.

Melrose district, which is to be sewered, is included between a point 250 feet west of High street on the west, the south line of the Southern Pacific railway right of way on the south to Bay avenue, thence south to the bay, a street east of the school house on the east, and the north line of the Talbot property on the north.

VALUED VISITOR.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The Fruitvale postoffice has had unusual success in disposing of its advertised letters, lately, and much local interest is being taken in that part of the postoffice department. The following are now ready for any who can prove property: Mrs. Eliza Burns, Geo. W. English, Mrs. C. Gunn, Miss Elvira Gordon, Mrs. E. Helmuth, Mrs. Josephine Moyer, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Jessie Schaffer, Wm. Brown, C. B. Bucholtz, Edward Harmon, Mr. Howland, E. Holmes and J. C. Paley (postage due).

STRIKING COSTUMES OF MRS. BLAINE.

Once known for the striking costumes she wore, Mrs. James G. Blaine, an acknowledged beauty in her day when she was Martha Hichborn, has turned her talent for designing dresses to the benefit of her nurse. She draws a good income from a firm in this city for furnishing new fads, and many of them are affected like jetted lace and net over white, red or yellow silk for evening wear. At White House levees she was sure to be stared at. She wears much less striking apparel now than in earlier days, though one of her new designs is calculated to make folk take a second glance.

Her hat is of brocade, with a long coat, gay with bows, buttons and gold-edged seams. Her hat is covered with a large net and gold lace, on which a blue violet tulip is set, on which gold spider webs are embroidered. Mauve suede shoes and gloves, with parasol and tulip ruff give to this toilet the air of having come direct from Paris, whereas it is the creation of the wearer's skill. —New York Press.

DR. WESTON Q. SMITH testified that he made no examination of the body and found nothing, no signs pointing to foul play. "There were no abrasions on the skin, and I looked on the breast and back for gunshot wounds, but found nothing. The body was probably not in the water more than twenty-four or thirty-six hours, from its appearance. The appearances indicate that the man was drowned."

PRESIDENT STANDS BY HIS OFFICERS

He Has No Apologies to Declares the Lady Was Arrested for Cause at Make in the Morris Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Dr. Minor Morris, whose wife some weeks ago was ejected from the White House, where she had gone to present alleged grievances to the President, today gave out for publication the correspondence which recently passed between himself and the President regarding the case. Dr. Morris demanded a public apology of the President "for this outrage on womanhood and common decency." Secretary Loeb replied to the letter, stating that an investigation by the Chief of Police showed that the arrest was justified, and that the kindest act to Mrs. Morris and other kinsfolk was to refrain from giving additional publicity.

The letters follow:

LETTER TO PRESIDENT.

"To the President of the United States—Sir: Having waited patiently number of weeks that you might have ample time to ascertain all the circumstances connected with the insult recently offered my wife at the White House, and that you might make some expression of depreciation which would naturally be expected, it is now incumbent upon me as husband and citizen, to demand a public apology for this outrage on womanhood and common decency."

"It is unthinkable that such brutality would be tolerated anywhere in this country, but above all in the White House."

"That my wife has been confined to her bed six weeks from the shock and injuries from this damnable treatment is bad enough, but I can say to you in all calmness that had the original orders from the White House been carried out as to her longer incarceration, her life would have been sacrificed."

"It is therefore incumbent upon me to repeat my urgent request that you take action at once suitable to the circumstances which have shocked the entire nation. Respectfully,

"MINOR MORRIS."

February 16, 1906."

PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

"The White House, Washington, Feb. 18, 1906.

"Sir: In reply to your letter of the 16th, the President directs me to say to you that he had the superintendent of police of the District of Columbia, Major Sylvester, make a careful investigation of the circumstances connect-

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and work according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for a while and give up ourselves to a diet. We read about the hardy Scotman being fed on porridge and oatcake, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking to fullness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate?"

But there is really no one rule applicable to everybody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspepsia should remember that the death lies with a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease." Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning, or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once.

Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea, indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloating, flatulence, heartburn and burp.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and give you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

FRENCH BISHOPS

Pope Holds a Secret Consistory at Rome.

ROME, Feb. 21.—The Pope held a secret consistory, today chiefly to create nineteen French bishops in the dioceses vacant through the Franco-Vatican struggle. He also pronounced the Right Rev. W. H. O'Connell, conductor to the archbishop of Boston, as archbishop of Constance, and the Right Rev. A. S. Bernard as bishop of St. Hyacinth, Canada.

The whole ceremony was in line with the Vatican's attitude toward France. The pontiff delivered an allocution summarizing the ideas set forth in his recent encyclical, showing the necessity based for appearance, "as certain published documents have deceived the faithful regarding the realities and feelings of the Holy See," evidently alluding to the pastoral letter of Mgr. Bonamici, archbishop of Verona, who advocated the principle of the separation of the church and State.

SAMUEL THOMAS DEAD.

ALLENTEWON, Pa., Feb. 21.—Samuel Thomas, the largest manufacturer of pig iron in the United States, died today at his home in Catasauqua, Pa., aged 79 years.

Mr. Thomas was a son of David Thomas, who first successfully introduced the anthracite blast for the manufacture of pig iron.

Tours truly.

POLICEMEN ISSUE CHALLENGE

MITCHELL GOES TO PITTSBURG

SERGEANT BOCK'S NINE OFFER ED A GAME WITH M'SORI EY'S HEAVIES.

PRESIDENT OF THE MINE WORKERS WILL TRY TO SETTLE TROUBLE.

SPORTING EDITOR TRIBUNE: In a recent issue of your paper, mention was made of the fact that Sergeant Bock had a baseball nine in training that was fast rounding into shape and was going to challenge the San Francisco police nine. I would like to call your attention to the fact that there is another nine in the Oakland police department, called the All Two Hundred Nine and it is been in condition for the last six months and is ready at any time to meet Sergeant Bock's nine and play for the championship of the Oakland police department. The makeup of this nine is as follows:

F. Schroeder (250), first base; J. F. Sill (235), pitcher; M. Fenton (240), catcher; H. C. Ernest (250), second base; A. Relphurt (275), shortstop; R. Collett (225), right field; G. Ely (245), center field; W. McCloud (235), left field; M. P. Powers (245), third base; W. B. Quigley (250), utility man.

This all star aggregation of ball tossers is open to challenge to any police nine in the State.

By inserting the above list and challenge you will oblige.

Yours respectfully,

R. V. McSORLEY, Captain and Manager, per J. J. Sherry, Treasurer.

SECURES WARRANT FOR ARREST OF SON

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—George A. Moore of Alameda, former president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, procured a warrant from Police Judge Cabanis yesterday for the arrest of his son, George J. Moore, in charge of the San Francisco police. The young man is said to be 18 and was sent to sea in an English ship by his parents several years ago. He beat his way back to New York, and then, according to telegraph stories from there, accused his parents of having him shanghaied and threatened to kill them when he got back here. His father's action yesterday was precautionary, that he might be taken into custody on arrival.

BASHFUL BRIDEGROOMS SEEN IN CUPID'S OFFICE

DENVER, Feb. 21.—The marriage license clerk claims to have more novel experiences than any other officer at the county court house. Prospective bridgrooms and brides appear before her every day in a highly nervous state and do things and say things that are ridiculous and amusing. A great number do not want anything said about the matter and others want the whole world to know about it.

Few marriage licenses are issued on Fridays and the 13th of months. And when the 13th falls on Friday the license clerk closes her books for the day. It is a waste of time to wait for applicants for marriage licenses.

One young man rushed in the other day and obtained a license and, leaving the place, remembered that he had raised his left hand instead of his right when he was sworn in the usual form. He had gotten several blocks from the court house when he remembered the error and returned out of breath and asked the clerk to re-swear him, which was done with his right hand uplifted, and he went away satisfied.

But the most fatal error made by an applicant was when a young man approached the desk just as the marriage clerk had issued a license to hunt.

"Give me one, too," he remarked, and the clerk, thinking he had come with the other applicant, inquired his name and issued the license. It was Saturday evening and the preacher and the invited guests were all present when the young man discovered that he held a hunter's license instead of a marriage license.

GOLDEN DROPS OF RAIN FOR THE COUNTY

Sharp Storm This Morning Wizard Sanborn Says We Was Good for the Crops.

J. Pluvius was a busy individual this morning depositing rain and hail upon Oakland. In total, the precipitation was not so great, but when it came it came hard and the intervals of sunshine were just the kind that induce the average citizen to drop his umbrella and make himself a ready victim for the next downpour.

The heaviest showers came between nine and ten this morning. About nine the hail came too, hot, and large pieces of it lay in the streets for several minutes before it melted. Half an hour later a downpour of rain that was almost a cloudburst came, but lasted hardly more than five minutes.

H. M. Sanborn, the Fourteenth street florist, who keeps close tab on the weather, said just after the last hard shower that this season's rains have been the best in years for the country. Up to this morning twelve and one-half inches had fallen here and approximately the same in the surrounding country. Last season at the same time there had been twenty-one inches, but Mr. Sanborn declares that this year's supply has done more good than that of a year ago. Then all the rain, practically, came in driving showers and ran off instead of soaking into the ground. This season the rain, with the exception of the last few showers, has been gentle and has been almost entirely absorbed where it would do the most good.

"And there is plenty more coming," added the florist.

"The moon was just right for rain this month. Didn't you notice how the new moon was right flat on its back, the points curving upwards? Well, you might say that as it fills out the rain is squeezed right out of it. The next change of the moon will bring a lot more rain or I am very much mistaken."

Mr. Sanborn is a firm believer in lunar influence on rainfall.

As to the hail, Mr. Sanborn said, that it might have been entirely local.

If it spread over a very considerable area there will soon be reports of damaged fruit trees in blossom and wherever the hail struck them the blossoms must have been cut off. The chances are that the hail's area was limited, Mr. Sanborn said.

The rain gauge at seven this morning showed that .67 of an inch of rain had fallen during the night. By ten o'clock about half an inch more had been registered.

SHE'S TOO OLD TO COUNT ON

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND PRESENTS A BILL IN THE HOUSE.

SO WRITES SUSAN B. ANTHONY TO HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON IN HER HOME.

P. Cahill of Golden Gate, one of the survivors of the ill-fated ship "Rogers," which was wrecked by fire in the Arctic ocean in 1881, has received a letter from Congressman Knowland stating that he has introduced the following bill for the benefit of those now living who were on that disastrous trip:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to cause the surviving members of the crew of the United States steamer Rodgers, of the Jeannette relief expedition, to be reinstated and reappointed in the United States navy with the same rank or rating held by them respectively, or the date of their discharge from said United States steamer Rodgers, and that therupon said surviving members of said crew shall be deemed and considered as having served thirty years in the United States navy and retired with the pay provided in the Act of March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, relating to the retirement of enlisted men and appointed petty officers."

"Yes, I know of no other business," he answered.

President Mitchell said in connection with the report which gained currency here yesterday that a conference with the bituminous coal operators would be held today that he had no arrangements to meet the coal operators here.

"How is the New York conference progressing?"

"Affairs are going along smoothly."

"Do you think, Mr. Mitchell, that it will be necessary to reconvene the national convention?"

"The national convention will not reassess," he said, emphatically.

"Has the executive board been called together for a meeting?"

"Yes, the executive board will meet some time before April 1. The meeting is essential and must be held, but there is no unusual significance attached to the meeting," replied Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Cahill gives the following explanation of the matter and account of the petition:

Congress, by its action of 1881, authorized an expedition to be sent to the Arctic regions to search for the United States steamer Jeannette marooned from the screw-steamer Arctic.

A. Osborne, a niece of Lucretia Mott, was also there, with the Countess Resse, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Phelps, in whose house "The Revolution" the first organ of the woman suffrage movement was planned. Mrs. Lillie Devereaux Blake whose name is closely associated with that of Miss Anthony and Mrs. Stanton, was detained by illness.

The event of the afternoon was the address of William M. Ivins, the Republican candidate for Mayor last fall, who declared that there was nothing nearer to his heart than the cause represented by the suffragettes.

The event of the afternoon was the address of William M. Ivins, the Republican candidate for Mayor last fall, who declared that there was nothing nearer to his heart than the cause represented by the suffragettes.

The toastmaster, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, introduced Mr. Ivins as a "new man."

After cruising in the Arctic ocean in search of the lost vessel and their crews until late in the fall, the Rodgers was placed in winter quarters on the northeast coast of Siberia, where she was totally wrecked by fire on the 30th of October, 1881, leaving the ship's company entirely destitute of food and clothing, with the exception of what was on their persons, and with no possible chance of rescue.

Fortunately, among the crew, there were a few Indians living along the coast who assisted us in obtaining shelter and divided with us the small amount of food, consisting of walrus and seal meat, that they had been able to secure during the summer months. This meat, although limited in quantity, and eaten raw, as there was no fuel in the vicinity, enabled us to exist during a period of nearly six months, at which time we were rescued by a whale ship and placed on board a revenue cutter and returned to Mare Island Navy Yard, where many of the crew, seriously afflicted with scurvy, which had broken out during the winter, were placed in hospital.

Congress rewarded the Indians who assisted us to the best of their ability, by sending them food and weapons to assist them in securing food after the ownership of the whale ship that rescued us, but up to the present time Congress has never compensated in any manner the services of the men who by responding to the call for volunteers to hunt for their lost brothers, sacrificed some their lives, and many of them their health, as many of them died within a short time after their return to civilization.
